MOUNTAIN CREST TAKEN

RUSSIANS FORCE AN AUSTRIAN RETREAT

Capture Section of Mountain Barrier After Desperate Encounter of Twelve Hours.

Today's War News Given in Summary.

After a twelve hour battle the Russians have captured another section of the mountain barrier between Galicia and Hungary. A dispatch from Lemberg, Galicia, tells of a Russian attack on the Austrian forces at Mezolabor in the east Beskides. The Austrians were forced to give ground and it is said the main mountain crest in this region, considered impregnable, has passed into the hands of the Russians.

This battle was an incident in a struggle of unusual severity now in progress along a front of more than 100 miles, from Bartfeld, northern Hungary, to Stry, eastern Galicia. Petrograd reports that both sides are attacking simultaneously and that the losses are heavy.

The Austrians in Bukovina and the Germans in northern Poland are making small movements, interpreted in Petrograd as intended to force the Russians to withdraw some of their troops from the Carpathian front.

Renewal of the bombardment in the Dardanelles by the allied fleet is reported from Constantinople.

Along the western battle front fighting is reported at many points, but not of decisive character.

Lemberg, April 13.—(Via Petrograd, April 14.)—In a desperate attack by the Russians on the right flank of the Austrian position at Mezolabor, on the Hungarian side of the East Beskid mountains about fifty miles south of Przemyśl, the Austrians were forced after a twelve hour battle to make a precipitate retreat.

The whole main crest in this district, which the Austrians considered to be impregnable, now is in Russian hands.

The main body of the Austrian army then moved on Rostocka, where they found the Russians prepared in a strong defensive position and they again were repulsed. Another attack made by the Austrians in the southern district of Uzok and Veretzkim met with a similar check, the Russians occupying a position three miles from Uzok.

The left flank of this Austrian army, under command of Archduke Joseph Ferdinand, is being gradually exposed by the Russian advances toward Bartfeld and Gummio.

FIGHTING EVERY FOOT.

Austro-German Forces Stoutly Resist Advance of Russians.

Petrograd, April 14.—Austro-German forces which still hold isolated summits of the Carpathians are contesting stubbornly every foot of the Russian advance along the route from Bartfeld to Stry. This front runs almost due east and west for 115 miles. Bartfeld is in northern Hungary and Stry in eastern Galicia to the south of Lemberg.

Attacks and counter attacks follow with such rapidity that both sides may be said to be taking the offensive simultaneously. The shocks are resulting in unusually heavy casualties, with only a slight change in the comparative positions of the opposing forces. "Uzok, near the pass of that name still remains in the possession of the Austrians but the Russians have captured the heights to the northward, coming within three miles of the railroad station and their occupation of the town itself is expected. The Austrians are vigorously repeating their efforts to penetrate from Bukovina into Russian territory in the direction of Choty. The Russians characterize this move as a device on the part of the Austrians for drawing Russian troops from the Carpathians. They assert that the Austrians have been unable to bring up sufficient reinforcements to check the Russian advance, and that the only alternative for the Austrians is to divert part of the Russian forces in other directions.

To the north in the district along the Prussian frontier, there are no movements of first importance. Small battles are a daily occurrence in the Mariampol district. The Germans have occupied fortified positions from Mariampol to Suwalki since their unsuccessful invasion of a month ago. The Russians are attempting persistently to oust the Germans from this region. The Szesupa river, flowing northward from Mariampol forms a strong protection for the German left wing.

The Germans are attempting to undertake an offensive movement at several points along the Narva river but are avoiding battle in the district beyond the Niemen, where the muddy conditions of the ground makes maneuvers difficult.

FRENCH USE DEADLY GASES.

Allies Driven Out by Germans After Temporary Success.

Berlin, April 14.—The German army headquarters today gave out the following information:

"In the western arena: The attempt made by the enemy to advance at night at Berry-au-Bac failed.

"Northwest of Verdun the French yesterday employed against our lines a mine developing yellowish smoke and asphyxiating gases.

"Between the Neuse and Moselle fighting continues. During a strong

TWO CARGOES OF DYESTUFFS COMING

Allied Fleet Will Not Interfere With Present Shipment.

Washington, April 14.—Arrangements have been completed for the shipment to America of two cargoes of German dye stuffs which were paid for by the American importers before March 1 and are now at Rotterdam.

This information was conveyed to the state department today by the British embassy. The cargoes in question are on the steamers Guantamo and City of Savannah. According to the arrangements these cargoes will not be interfered with by the allied fleet, provided they are under a neutral flag and consigned to Secretary Redfield of the department of commerce, for the direct use of consumers of the dye stuffs.

The arrangement is understood to have been effected directly with the British government by the representative in London of the American textile manufacturers and no provision is made for the supply of dye stuffs to the regular dealers in this country. It is stated at the British embassy that there has been no objection to the shipment of dye stuffs under the conditions announced today and the delay in moving the cargoes was said to be attributable to the difficulty in establishing the facts.

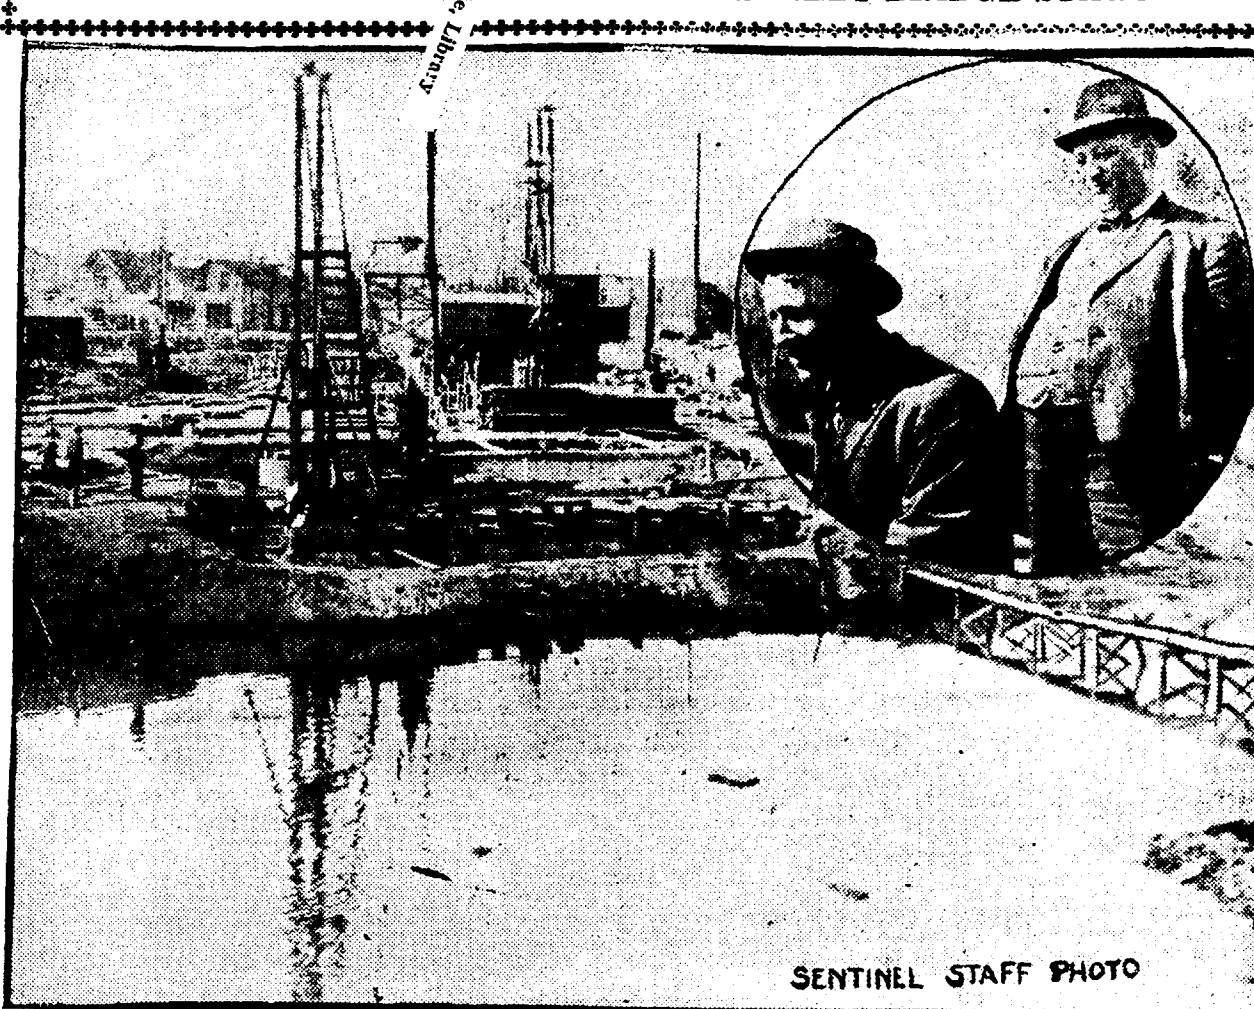

Gen. Funston Goes to Take Personal Charge

Washington, April 14.—Major General Frederick Funston, commanding the American forces on the Mexican frontier, is enroute today from San Antonio to Brownsville, Texas, to take personal charge of the situation there which has again become threatening in the consequences of the falling of Mexican bullets on the American territory. Reporting to the War Department today, Gen. Funston said that although bullets struck the Brownsville side during the fighting yesterday there were no casualties. The situation is considered to be serious.

the police yesterday extended from a point about one-half mile in front of the right flank of Carranza's trenches from the Brownsville pumping station. It was in the vicinity of the pumping station that the bullets fell on the American side, when Villa forces had two field pieces in action during the engagement and fired about twenty shots into Matamoros.

According to reports from Matamoros to the Carranza agency here today, the sortie against the Villa troops yesterday resulted in the killing of 300 of the Mexicans and the capture of many prisoners. Two hundred horses, sixty

DAN CUPID GOES WEST WITH PARTY

Result is Marriage of W. C. Stellhorn and Miss Rosa A. Weis.

When W. C. Stellhorn, senior member of the clothing firm of Stellhorn and Neireiter, left on March 14 with a party of Fort Wayne friends for the Panama-Pacific exposition at San Francisco, little did he think he would return to this city a married man.

But Dan Cupid was a member of the party, although nobody knew it until later, with the result that on the morning of April 9, Mr. Stellhorn and Miss Rosa A. Weis, of St. Mary's, Pa., a cousin of E. J. Longfield, of this city, were quietly married by Rev. Keller, in Oakland, California.

All of this was done without the knowledge of the other members of the party, the announcement being made at a dinner given the same evening by Mr. Stellhorn in one of the leading hotels of Oakland to thirty of his friends. Then it was that he publicly announced his marriage to Miss Weis, with the request that his friends back home be kept in ignorance until their return, one week from next Sunday. But the secret was too good to keep and though somewhat belated, word of the marriage was finally received in Fort Wayne.

Mr. Stellhorn was scarcely acquainted with Miss Weis before leaving for the west. It was love at first sight. The train had not left the state when they were conversing together as though they had known each other for years. While members of the party were not blind to the fact that the trip had resulted in a love affair, little did they think that it would culminate in their marriage before their return to Fort Wayne.

Although Miss Weis' home is in St. Mary's, Ohio, she has spent the last two years in the home of her cousin, E. J. Longfield. Both have a host of friends here who wish them no end of happiness.

Members of the party with Mr. and Mrs. Stellhorn are: Miss Margaret Stetzer, Mrs. Foellinger, sister of Mr. Stellhorn; Mrs. Mary E. Herbst, Mrs. A. H. Emrich, Miss Minni LaFranz, of Chicago, and Miss Lizzie Bebeloh.

Cleveland, Ohio, April 14.—The Wheeling and Lake Erie railroad now in the hands of a receiver, will again be offered for sale by the United States district court at 10 a. m. Friday at the road's depot.

ASK ROBERTS TO QUIT JOB

Councilmen to Visit Jail to Request Resignation as Mayor.

GET PERMIT TO CALL ON CONVICTED MAN Unless Bond is Furnished Before Sunday, Trip to Prison Begins.

Indianapolis, Ind., April 14.—John I. Cronin and George Ohm, members of the Terre Haute city council, today received a permit to call on Mayor Donn M. Roberts at the Marion county jail, where he is being held pending his attempts to give bond of $50,000 for his appeal from a sentence of six years in Leavenworth penitentiary and a fine of $2,000 in the Terre Haute election case.

The purpose of the visit, it was said, was to request the resignation of Roberts as mayor of Terre Haute, thus violating the law. Under the law the immigration officers asserted, the line had the privilege of transferring the crew of one ship to another but could not bring to America as passengers on board their ships for crew of another ship in America.

Although placed technically under arrest when the vessel arrived at quarantine today the stewards and stewardesses were allowed to remain at work till the ship docked. The captain was notified, however, that the line would be subjected to a fine of $1,000 for each man or woman who should escape, leaving only a few behind as witnesses.

Mr. Moore said that the employment of stewards and stewardesses was an object to many steamship lines because the rate of wages was about half that paid Americans.

DEMOCRATS IN LOVE FEAST ON APRIL 28

Indianapolis, Ind., April 14.—Bernard Korley, state chairman of the democratic state committee, today announced that proposed love feast of the Indiana democrats will be held probably in Tomlinson hall Wednesday night, April 28, with Wm. C. Redfield, secretary of commerce, as the principal speaker.

The state chairman today received notice from Secretary Redfield that he would come to Indianapolis on that date and Chairman Korley said the love feast therefore would be arranged for that time. Final arrangements for the meeting are to be made at a gathering here of democrats from all over the state next Saturday.

CONTRACT LABOR LAW VIOLATION CHARGED

Big Liner's Entire Corps of Stewards and Stewardesses Arrested.

New York, April 14.—Seventy-seven men and women, virtually the entire force of stewards and stewardesses aboard the American liner Kronland, were placed under arrest today by immigration officers and a warrant was served on the captain, charging the Red Star line, owners of the vessel, with violation of the alien contract labor law.

The entire complement of stewards and stewardesses—sixty-nine men and eight women—it was charged had been brought in as passengers aboard the liner Finland last January from England. After their arrival here it is charged the Red Star line transferred them, in accordance with a previous agreement to the Kronland, thus violating the law. Under the law the immigration officers asserted, the line had the privilege of transferring the crew of one ship to another but could not bring to America as passengers on board their ships for crew of another ship in America.

Although placed technically under arrest when the vessel arrived at quarantine today the stewards and stewardesses were allowed to remain at work till the ship docked. The captain was notified, however, that the line would be subjected to a fine of $1,000 for each man or woman who should escape, leaving only a few behind as witnesses.

SEA RAIDER NEEDS NEW BOILER TUBES

At Least Three Weeks Required to Repair German Cruiser.

Newport News, Va., April 14.—The German commerce raider Kronprinz Wilhelm, it was learned today, is in need of boiler tubes which cannot be supplied at this port and must be manufactured elsewhere. To procure them would require at least three weeks. Authorization to take the Wilhelm into dry dock has been given by Washington.

Three hundred additional tons of coal were allowed the cruiser today for port purposes and to trim the ship by lowering her bow. Experts report that she is taking so much water as to endanger her rudder and propellers. Rear Admiral Beatty, commandant of the Norfolk navy yards, sent word today that the naval examining board probably will not inspect the Wilhelm until the navy department examined Captain Thierfelder's requests for repairs.

Then the navy department will fix the time limit of the vessel's stay at Newport News provided her commander does not elect to intern her as it is generally believed here he will.

The examining board in the Norfolk navy yard was due at any time to check up the outline of repairs necessary to make the ship seaworthy. The German commander did not complete his inquiry into the nationality of the members of the Wilhelm's crew last night, as requested by Collector Hamilton, but promised to ascertain today whether any naturalized Americans are aboard the ship. At least one American is believed to belong to the crew.

Details of the sinking of the British steamer Bellevue, one of the Wilhelm's victims, were related today by members of the crew, revealing that the British ship was held as a prize for sixteen days before she was sent to the bottom. The Bellevue was bound from Liverpool to South American ports with 4,000 tons of coal, 1,000 cases of whisky and some oxen when she was captured by the Wilhelm December 4 last. She was moored to the Wilhelm with a strong cable and stripped of everything of value, after her coal had been taken aboard.

When the French steamer Mont Agel was sighted the Bellevue was left in charge of a prize crew, while the Kronprinz Wilhelm gave chase and finally sank the Frenchman by ramming. The prize crew, on December 20, after all movable property was securely lashed down, in order that nothing might be left floating upon the surface to give the British cruisers a clue as to the Wilhelm's whereabouts, the Bellevue was sent to the bottom.

ENGLAND MAY ALLOW USE OF BEER ONLY

Hint in Parliament Forecasts Action on Drink Question.

London, April 14.—Parliament re-assembled today with a fair attendance. The first hour was devoted principally to questions concerning the war. Lewis Harcourt, secretary of state for the colonies, promised that the dominions would be consulted fully in regard to the terms of peace.

Harold J. Tennant, parliamentary under secretary of war, made the announcement that there had been 1,548 promotions to commissions from the ranks since the beginning of the war. He also gave what was regarded as a possible clue to the intentions of the government concerning the drink question. He said that beer was the only intoxicant now permitted in the canteens and that it was not the intention of the authorities to prohibit its sale.

Announcing in the house of commons that the British foreign office had requested the American ambassador in London, Walter H. Page, to telegraph to the American ambassador in Berlin, James W. Gerard, to find out what truth there was in the reported German reprisals, Col. Primrose, parliamentary under secretary for foreign affairs, added: "If this report be true we can only hope that these prisoners are being treated as well as are those captured by submarines in this country."

Premier Asquith announced the house would only sit for three days' work. He also stated in reply to a suggestion that the members ought to follow the lead of King George and abstain from the use of alcohol, that the suppression of alcoholic liquors at the palace of Westminster was a matter for the public and not the government to decide.

The British government has decided against placing cotton on the contraband list. A question was asked in the house of commons this afternoon on this subject and Neil Primrose, under secretary of foreign affairs, on behalf of the foreign office stated that after a careful consideration of the matter the government had decided against it.

KEEP A BLACK LIST, HE SAYS

News Service Operator Accuses Commercial Telegraph Companies.

AVAILABLE TO THE RAILROADS, ALSO

Declares Wire Companies Drive Many Operators from Country.

Chicago, April 14.—C. P. McElreath, a telegrapher employed by the International News service at Detroit, testified today before the United States commission on industrial relations that the commercial telegraph companies maintain a black list.

"I am on it because I am a union man," he said, and he added that he was sure the list was interchangeable between the Western Union and the Postal Telegraph companies. He said the list was available to the railroad companies.

"Many men have been driven from the country in this way," said the witness, "while others have obtained work by using an alias. These latter, however, are usually discovered in time."

"Do blacklisted men ever obtain reinstatement?" asked Frank P. Walsh, chairman of the commission.

"Yes, by surrendering their manhood—by surrendering their union cards," replied McElreath.

Replies to Brooks. S. J. Konekamp, president of the Commercial Telegraphers' union of America, was recalled for a few minutes to reply to a phase of the testimony of Vice President Brooks, of the Western Union Telegraph company, and Edward G. Reynolds, general manager of the Postal Telegraph company.

"The strike of 1907, Konekamp said, was not brought by the officers of the union on the heels of an agreement made through C. P. Neill, then commissioner of labor, but was forced by the rank and file of the union.

"The men in San Francisco did walk out the day after the agreement was reached, but they did not know of the truce and officers of the union forced them to return to work," said the witness. "The union officials were harshly criticized by the men for their conciliatory attitude. There was wrong on both sides, but the companies had ample warning of unrest among the men."

Commissioner Ashton asked if every effort was made to inform the men of the Neill agreement.

Wanted to "Save His Face." "No, R. C. Clowry, then general manager of the Western Union, wanted to 'save his face,' and I was asked to give the agreement as little publicity as possible," replied Mr. Konekamp.

T. W. Carroll, superintendent of traffic of the Western division of the Western Union Telegraph company, was the

FLEET AGAIN FIRES ON TURK BATTERIES

London, April 14.—After a prolonged lull in the operations at the Dardanelles, fighting has resumed on a small scale. An official report from Constantinople says the batteries at the entrance to the straits were bombarded yesterday and that a cruiser and destroyer were struck by the Turkish fire.

Messages from Vienna to Rome quote an American official as saying that a state of siege probably will be proclaimed in Austria, on account of popular unrest occasioned by the advance of the Russians through the Carpathians.

It is reported also that Emperor Francis Joseph has decided to make the territorial concessions desired by Italy provided that nation will take up arms for Austria and Germany. This report, however, is not generally credited in Rome.

The Austrian announcement that the Russians have been checked in the Carpathians is disputed at Petrograd where it is said that further advances have been made. Ussok pass apparently is the key to the situation and on account of the strong forces of Austrians and Germans massed in this district the Russians have been unable to force their way through.

The last Russian official report, however, announced the capture of three villages and 2,700 prisoners in the fighting near the pass.

The British parliament meets today for consideration of some of the important collateral issues presented by the war. It is expected the liquor problem will be discussed and the government may announce its decision in favor of a measure to enforce temperance or prohibition. An announcement also is expected concerning the government's plan for utilizing the nation's resources for the manufacture of war munitions.

IT WAS NOT "TEDDY" AND "WILL" THIS TIME

First Meeting of Taft and Roosevelt in 3 Years. Not Enthusiastic.

New Haven, Conn., April 14.—For the first time since their famous dispute before the republican national convention in 1912, which brought about the formation of the progressive party, William H. Taft and Theodore Roosevelt, erstwhile presidents and rivals for the same honor at the last election, met here yesterday at the funeral of Professor Thomas P. Lounsbury, of Yale university.

Both were among the honorary pallbearers and although they shook hands and exchanged a few words, their greeting was very formal and rather chilly. "How do you do, Mr. Taft?" "How do you do, Mr. Roosevelt?" a formal clasp of the hands, and it was over.

Later Colonel Roosevelt found time to ask about Mrs. Taft, and, on being informed that she was well, expressed a wish to be remembered to her. Still later, it was observed that the two men conversed together for about a minute, but that was all. When the services were over, Mr. Taft hurried away to catch his train, without waiting to bid good-by to Mr. Roosevelt.

During the services the two men occupied separate pews and they rode to Grove Street cemetery in separate carriages.

MORE CONCLUDE TO ABANDON A FIGHT

Other Terre Haute Men to Accept Prison Terms Without Appeal.

Indianapolis, Ind., April 14.—Despairing of giving bond for an appeal, four more of the men sentenced Monday to the federal penitentiary at Leavenworth, Kansas, by Judge Anderson, following their conviction in the Terre Haute election fraud cases, withdrew from the appeal late yesterday. Four stopped proceedings for an appeal in their behalf yesterday, leaving twelve who are still seeking appeal bonds.

In addition to Maurice Walsh, treasurer of the democratic county committee and county scaler of weights and measures, who shortly after noon decided not to contest the judgment further, the others who withdrew from the appeal are: Thomas Smith, city engineer; Edward Driscoll, assistant city engineer and secretary of the democratic county committee; and Joseph O'Mara, street superintendent. O'Mara, who had been sentenced to Leavenworth prison for a year and a day and fined $100, was permitted to return to Terre Haute, after his fine had been reduced to $1, which was paid. Judge Anderson granted O'Mara's request to go to prison unattended and he will join Walsh and the four released yesterday on the trip, which must be started by noon next Sunday.

Driscoll and Smith, each of whom received sentences of three years and fines of $500, were ordered back to the Marion county jail after they had informed the court that they would not prosecute the appeal. Smith was permitted to go to Terre Haute Thursday under a guard, to arrange his business affairs. He will be brought back to Indianapolis and with Driscoll and others, who may withdraw from the appeal or fail to give bond, will be taken to prison in a body.

This means that Mayor Donn M. Roberts, who was termed the "arch conspirator" by Judge Anderson, and who received the heaviest sentence of all—six years imprisonment and a fine of $2,000—will have at least two more days in which to further his efforts to obtain his appeal bond of $60,000.

Three of those who received sentences to the jail here have been released. William Doyle, Dan Alban and Nick Burson, who were sentenced to one day in jail and to pay fines of $100 each, served their time, paid their fines and have returned to their homes in Terre Haute. Alban and Burson pleaded guilty, but Doyle stood trial.

USES THE MOVIES TO TEACH FOOTBALL

Coach at Indiana University Springs a Brand New Innovation.

Bloomington, Ind., April 14.—When spring football practice was begun here today Coach Childs sprung a brand new innovation in the matter of teaching players the science of the game. By the use of motion pictures of games played last year he is pointing out to his men the different styles of attack and defense used by the bigger teams. He will continue this form of instruction for the next ten days before leading his men on the gridiron for scrimmage practice. With prospects bright for a winning team next fall, citizens of this city, as well as students of the university, are showing a keen interest in the spring work and the use of one of the local moving picture playhouses was donated by its owner.

WAR RISK INSURANCE PAYS ITS FIRST LOSS

Washington, April 14.—The government war risk insurance bureau paid its first claim yesterday for losses due to the European war. A treasury warrant for $401,000 was drawn in favor of Harris-Irby and Vose, of New York, owners of the American steamer Evelyn, sunk off the coast of Holland, supposedly by a mine, February 20.

The Evelyn was the first American boat lost during the war. On the amount paid $301,000 was for her cargo of cotton, and $100,000 for her hull. Necessary proof of loss reached the treasury department April 1.

The bureau to date has earned premiums amounting to $1,453,000 out of a total of premiums paid up to April 7, amounting to $1,753,000. The government is expected to salvage some of the Evelyn's cargo and thereby reduce its net loss.

DRUG ADDICTS FEAR INSANITY; ASK AID

New York, April 14.—As a result of the enforcement of the new law against traffic in habit-forming drugs here, ten young men who said they feared they would become insane because they could not obtain drugs to the use of which they were addicted, were under treatment in Bellevue hospital today. They were sent there by a magistrate after they had applied for admission to another hospital. Scores of others applied for admission to various hospitals last night. Some of them were so faint they could hardly walk.

One young man had been unable to obtain a drug from sources where he formerly purchased it, and had in the street.

REAL NAME OF MAN SWOBODA IS SCHWIND

Prisoner on Trial Freely Answers Questions as to Identity.

Paris, April 14.—The real name of the man known as Raymond Swoboda, now on trial before a court martial on charges of arson and espionage, is Raymond Schwind, it was developed at the hearing yesterday according to the Journal.

The prisoner, whose arrest resulted from the investigation into the fire aboard the steamer Le Tonnerre, answered without hesitation questions asked by Captain Julian in an effort to establish his identity. This was the most important point brought out in the examination. Schwind, declaring the charges against him baseless, complained of the slow progress made in the investigation and appeared disappointed because his lawyer was not permitted to be present during the inquiry. Schwind obtained an American passport by subterfuge according to the Figaro. Knowing that the municipal records of San Francisco were destroyed in the great fire he is said to have informed the embassy that he was born in that city. Since it was impossible to obtain proof of this statement the embassy accepted his word and issued the passport. The paper says his conduct aroused suspicion and he was under surveillance in Paris and New York. A London business man is quoted as asserting that he recognizes in Schwind a man once employed by him as a German clerk who said he was born in Bremen and that his father was a German fiscal official.

TWO DIVISION PLAN IS BEING INSPECTED

System Inaugurated by Postmaster Hanna Regarded as Success.

For the purpose of determining the success of the two division plan in the Fort Wayne postoffice a thorough inspection is being made by Postoffice Inspectors W. B. Platt, of Fort Wayne, and John Hunter, of South Bend.

Upon his own initiative and with a view of improving the system of the local office Postmaster Robert B. Hanna inaugurated what is known as the two division plan, which divides the office into two divisions, the finance and mailing. Since its inauguration here there has been no inspection and that is what Messrs. Platt and Hunter are now doing. Under the old system there were five divisions, the executive, mailing, city delivery, registry and money order.

The two division system is regarded much more satisfactory and efficient. A thorough inspection of the office is being made by the two inspectors, which is done about once a year. Under the direction of Postmaster Hanna the Fort Wayne postoffice has been transformed into one of the best managed and most systematically conducted of offices in the country.

SCHOOLS TO OBSERVE ARBOR DAY FRIDAY

In compliance with a proclamation issued by Governor Samuel M. Ralston, arbor day will be observed in many of the schools in Allen county Friday.

In a circular issued by Charles A. Greathouse, superintendent of the state department of public instruction, and directed to the teachers and children in the schools of Indiana, he says:

"Children and patrons are greatly interested when the schools of their locality appropriately observe that movement, and young and old are assembled together to repeat the same sentiment or sing the same song. A bond of relationship through co-operation in a common interest is formed that goes far beyond the immediate purpose, and creates a state loyalty and pride that not only powerfully influences the activities of the present generation but all the rising generation with incentives that make for substantial and superior citizenship."

USING CONVICTS ON WORK.

Moundsville, W. Va., April 14.—A force of convicts from the state penitentiary today began the task of restoring the historic mound, one of the largest works of the mound builders in the Ohio valley. The mound has been taken over by the state and will be converted into a park. A movement is on foot to erect on the summit a monument to the memory of Captain Foreman, who with twenty-five others, was massacred by Indians in 1787 at short distance from the mound.

Fifty Years Ago Tonight Abraham Lincoln Was Assassinated

Man Who Heard the Shot; Who Saw the President Fall; Who Saw the Assassin Trip on the American Flag—This Man Tells the Story of John Wilkes Booth's Death.

LINCOLN ASSASSINATED—SKETCHED FROM LIEUTENANT JONES' STORY.

When John Wilkes Booth sprang from the president's box in Ford's theater, April 14, 1865, and challenged the world with his dramatic cry, "The south is avenged," only one man in the audience seemed to feel the shock of the world-tragedy.

For several seconds after the bullet carried its death blow to Lincoln's brain the audience seemed paralyzed with fright.

But from the topmost gallery a young man leaped to the balcony rail below and swung into the president's box just in time to see an incident that seems to have escaped everyone else on the stage and in the theater.

Lieutenant Charles H. Jones, then connected with the quartermaster's department at Washington, is the man who sprang from the gallery in time to hear a man on the stage announce, "The assassin is captured" and thus prevent immediate pursuit of Booth.

This is Lieutenant Jones' story of Lincoln's assassination: "It was the third act of the play, 'Our American Cousin.' I heard the shot in the president's box; I saw Lincoln's head fall forward—a man sprang from the box, tripped on the American flag that curtained it, and stumbled to the stage fourteen feet below.

"As he arose to his feet he cried, 'The south is avenged.'

"Not half a dozen people in the theater realized they were witnessing a great tragedy, but I seemed to divine what had happened. I leaped over the gallery and balcony rail, swung into the president's box just in time to see Major Rathbone remove his hands from the president's head. They were covered with blood. I knew then the assassin was dying.

"Histories have been written about Lincoln's assassination, but all of the histories omit one important thing—a thing that I saw and no man can contradict my statement in regard to this—

"As soon as Booth disappeared from the stage a man in evening clothes announced 'He has been captured' and turned back the people who were pursuing the assassin.

"One man had followed Booth when he rushed from the stage, but he was outwitted when Booth shut the stage door in his face. The audience seemed stunned; for a few seconds there was no pursuit; then several army officers sprang upon the stage, but they were turned back by the mysterious man in evening clothes, supposed then to be an attaché of the theater when he announced, 'He has been captured.'

"Who was that man's stage?" "Why was he on the stage?" "Why did he delay pursuit of the assassin with a lie?"

"These things have never been accounted for. In fact I never heard about the man during the excitement that followed the tragedy, and none of the histories of the assassination refer to him.

"I remained only a few minutes in the Lincoln box, but before I left Laura Keane had reached the dying president. Her beautiful white silk gown was soon vivid with the blood of the martyr whose head she held in her arms.

"One actor assassinated Lincoln. Another actor ministered to him as he died."

NEWS OF FORT WAYNE'S NEIGHBORS

IS TRAPPING IN CANADA.

Bluffton, Ind., April 14.—Mrs. John McDaniel today received a letter from her son, Vay Miller, who has been engaged in trapping during the past winter in the far northern part of Canada. The letter was sent out to civilization by another trapper and Vay says that he will remain for another four or five weeks at the trapping grounds along the Smoky river, 100 miles from the river from Hinton, the nearest postoffice. It was the first letter and the first word his mother had received from him in seven months. He says that up to the time of writing he had killed 31 martens, 18 lynxes, 15 weasels, 3 mink, 1 wolverine and 1 silver fox in the line of fur-bearing animals, and besides, for his larder, had killed two caribou, three sheep and one moose.

TO DEDICATE NEW SCHOOL.

Huntington, Ind., April 14.—A dedication service will be held Sunday, May 2, for the new school additions of the German Lutheran parochial school. It is planned to have representatives of Lutheran churches in Fort Wayne, Peru and other Wabash valley towns present on the occasion. Just now experts are installing a new bowling alley in the basement of the enlarged building. This alley is one of the finest and will be much in demand among the younger men of the church. The meeting will be an all-day affair, and dinner will be served in the school hall. It is expected that each family will bring dinner, and everybody will gather in the hall to eat.

ENTIRE LIFE IN ADAMS COUNTY.

Decatur, Ind., April 14.—Suddenly and wholly unexpectedly, Mrs. Abraham Railing, one of the oldest and best known women in Decatur, passed away at the family home on Market street, at the age of 73. Mrs. Railing had not been in good health during the winter, but Monday she was feeling better than usual. She and her aged husband were at the home together, and Mr. Railing having some errand, left the house for a moment, and when he returned she was in a dying condition and almost instantly she breathed her last. Mrs. Railing was a daughter of Samuel and Rachel Guessinger, and was born in Root township, June 30, 1841. Her entire life was spent in Adams county.

HUNTINGTON CLEAN-UP WEEK.

Huntington, Ind., April 14.—"Clean up" week will be observed in Huntington the first week in May. This announcement was made by Mayor P. M. McCarty last night, after he had conferred with the board of public works and Street Commissioner Ed Smith as to the date for the annual clean up crusade. "Clean up" week has been a yearly affair in Huntington for several years. It is the week when all the winter's accumulation of rubbish and refuse is gathered from the dark corners and piled out for the street department to cart away. The city is given a new dress that week with which to greet the spring and summer months.

WEDS AND SURPRISES FRIENDS.

Van Wert, O., April 14.—Andrew S. Burt, seventy-two, city clerk of Van Wert, and Sarah E. Ochs, fifty-one, of Lima, were married in Lima and the news was kept from Burt's friends here until notice of the marriage license was published in Lima newspapers. Mr. Burt is one of Van Wert's leading residents, is highly respected wherever he is known, is an enthusiastic member of the G. A. R., one of the oldest members of the Royal Arcticon, and has filled the responsible position of city treasurer for several years. His bride is highly esteemed in the circles in which she has moved in Lima and possesses a host of friends.

WALKS 40 MILES TO PAY TAXES.

Huntington, Ind., April 14.—William Foust, of near Warren, who has walked twenty miles to Huntington every spring to pay his tax and then walked twenty miles back to his home, made his last trip of that kind Tuesday. At least so he announced to Fred Swaim, deputy treasurer, when he paid his tax. Mr. Foust has made a yearly pilgrimage to Huntington for several years to pay his tax on the small home where he lives.

To Put On Flesh And Increase Weight

A Physician's Advice.
Most thin people eat from four to six pounds of good, solid, fat making food every day, and still do not increase in weight one ounce, while on the other hand many of the plump, chunky folks eat very lightly and keep gaining all the time. It's all a matter of the nature of the food. It isn't nature's way at all. Thin folks stay thin because their powers of assimilation are defective. They absorb just enough of the food they eat to maintain life and a semblance of health and strength. Stuffing won't help them. A dozen meals a day won't make them gain a single "stay there" pound. All the fat-producing elements of their food just stay in the intestines until they pass from the body as waste. What such people need is something that will prepare these fatty food elements so that their blood can absorb them and deposit them all about the body—something, too, that will multiply their red blood corpuscles and increase their blood's carrying power.

For such a condition I always recommend eating a Sargol tablet with every meal. Sargol is not, as some believe, a patented drug, but is a scientific combination of six of the most effective and powerful flesh building elements known to chemistry. It is absolutely harmless, yet wonderfully effective, and a single tablet eaten with each meal often has the effect of increasing the weight of a thin man or woman from three to five pounds a week. Sargol is sold by Meyer Bros. Drug Co., Oliver Drug Co., D. & N. Pharmacy, and other drug stores.

He travels the entire distance, amounting to about forty miles, on foot. His tax amounted to ninety-nine cents for the entire year.

MILFORD SCHOOLS FAMOUS.

Milford, Ind., April 14.—The Milford schools at present and for the past winter have been having a deluge of visitors. There were visitors present every day last week. The building is modern in every respect and parents, teachers and pupils are taking every advantage of the opportunities offered.

MINISTER AT DECATUR HURT.

Decatur, Ind., April 14.—Rev. W. J. Myers, a well known minister of the city, is lying at his home suffering from a compressed fracture and it will be some time before he will be able to be up and around again. The injury is the result of an accident in Geneva yesterday afternoon. Mr. Myers was looking after business there. He had failed to notice a step and fell. A physician was at once called and cared for Mr. Myers. He was then brought to his home in the city and placed in the care of a Decatur physician, who found him suffering from a compressed fracture of the hip.

JURY FAILS TO AGREE.

Warsaw, Ind., April 14.—After being out for five hours, the jury disagreed on the charge against Newton Hoover, for encouraging the delinquency of sixteen-year-old Lydia Hoffman. The jury retired at 4:40 to deliberate and returned at 9:30 without reaching an agreement. Hoover was taken back to jail and will be held there probably until the September term of court to await another trial unless he can furnish the required bond of $500.

HORSE WAS NOT STOLEN.

Decatur, Ind., April 14.—The report in circulation Monday that a horse belonging to Gideon Reisen, a farmer in the vicinity of Berne, Ind., had been stolen Sunday night, has been found to be without foundation. Monday, the animal hitched to the buggy just as it had disappeared, was found south of Monroe. Tied at the side of the road, where someone had left it, presumably after they had driven to the place.

A FINE TREATMENT FOR CATARRH

EASY TO MAKE AND COSTS LITTLE

If you have catarrh don't be misled or cured into believing you can obtain a cure for your trouble by breathing a simple medicated air.

Catarrh is a constitutional disease and inhalers, sprays and nose douches merely temporize with the disease and seldom, if ever, bring any lasting benefit. To effect a cure use a remedy that will drive the disease out of your system. Don't employ a remedy that will drive the disease down into your lungs and bronchial tubes. Such methods often lead to consumption, and frequently produce catarrhal deafness and head noises.

If you have catarrh in any form go to your druggist and get one ounce of Parment (Double Strength), take this home and add to it 1/4 pint of hot water and 4 ounces of granulated sugar; stir until dissolved. Take a tablespoonful four times a day.

The first dose should begin to relieve the most miserable headache, dizziness, sneezing, sore throat, running of the nose, catarrhal discharges, head noises and other loathsome symptoms that always accompany this disgusting disease.

Loss of smell, defective hearing and mucus dropping in the back of the throat are other symptoms that show the presence of catarrh and which may be ever cured by the use of this simple treatment.

ENGLAND WANTS "BILLY."

Evangelist Sunday May Be Asked to Aid Anti-Booze Crusade There.

New York, April 14.—Billy Sunday is to be asked to go to England to wage a prohibition campaign among the workmen of that country, according to the Tribune. A request for Sunday's address, it says, has been made of its London correspondent by Sir Henry Edward Randall, director of the business men's campaign for prohibition in England, so that a cable message might be forwarded to Sunday asking him to engage in a revival tour of England for the purpose of battling against liquor. Sir Henry is quoted as saying he hoped Sunday could make arrangements to close his present campaign at a reasonably early date so that he might come to England.

Should Not Feel Discouraged.

So many people troubled with indigestion and constipation have been benefited by taking Chamberlain's Tablets that no one should feel discouraged who has not given them a trial. They contain no poison or other digestive ferments, but strengthen the stomach and enable it to perform its functions naturally. Obtainable everywhere.—Adv.

Fire Department Motorization.

The suggestion of President Bayer, of the city council, that the track elevation tax levy be cut in half and a levy equivalent to the saving be created to provide for motor driven vehicles to replace the horse-drawn apparatus in the Fort Wayne fire department, has much to commend it. Mr. Bayer's idea was advanced in the discussion following an address by Mr. Charles B. Fitch, who urged that the change be made and that it be financed by an issue of city bonds.

Bond issues, often useful and occasionally offering the only prospect of securing immediate action for needed improvements, are not in general favor with tax-payers when any other system of financing a public proposition is practicable. There are times when nothing else will suffice as a money-raiser, particularly when it is imperative that the lump sum be available without delay, and the tax-payer is willing to accept the protracted term of interest-paying with some degree of toleration, if not of cheerful acquiescence. If there is any other way out, however, he prefers to take it.

The motorization of the fire department is necessary and it is important. As pointed out by Mr. Fitch, a saving of some $30,000 a year in operation of the fire department and a saving of $20,000 a year in decreased fire insurance rates through the use of motor driven fire-fighting apparatus, and the construction of an independent high pressure water system in the business district is a consummation devoutly to be wished. It is an investment, rather than an expense, and it is one of the investments Fort Wayne should make without delay. Fire-fighting methods and equipment must follow other advances or soon be hopelessly inadequate to cope with conditions imposed by the new order of things in other lines of activity. It must give a steadily improved grade of public service.

It is believed the sum now in the track elevation fund is sufficient to care for the city's share of grade separation work immediately in prospect, and that the levy might safely be lowered on this item and applied to fire department motorization. It is true this would necessitate a gradual change that would not at once give the city the benefit of a completely motorized department such as the bond issue would provide. Some years would be needed to effect the complete transformation, but we would at least be making steady progress toward a much-desired end. Splendid results of grade separation already accomplished make it evident that there must be no unnecessary delay in carrying forward this work, but if the motor vehicles for the fire department can be provided at the same time without increasing immediate financial burdens, that course will appeal to a vast majority of people as a wise one to pursue.

President Wilson has given authoritative denials to the flood of rumors indicating that he had been advised of the general basis on which belligerent European nations would be willing to enter into tentative negotiations looking to peace. It is apparent that these rumors have been inspired by hope rather than by any basis of fact. It may be taken for granted, however, that America will be ready on the instant to exercise its good offices in placating the warring foes as quickly as there is the slightest prospect of success. There will be no overlooking an opportunity of this sort, from whatever source it may come.

Arraigned in police court at South Bend, an eminent advocate of the theory of heaven-born personal rights asserted his contentions that every citizen is entitled to consume a certain amount of intoxicating liquor every day; that a man should lend, not give, money to his wife; that money changing hands in this fashion should be paid back, and that, anyway, courts and lawyers were not legitimate mediums with which to decide domestic difficulties. Doubtless he will be able to add a few additional planks to his platform during the mediation that will attend the eleven days he is serving in jail.

Congressman Stanley, of Kentucky, who represented some of the Terre Haute defendants in court, hastens to make it clear that he was in the case merely as a lawyer, and declares that he "would go through this thing again for a king's ransom." Despite his disavowed pleas for his clients, the public all along has had a suspicion that Mr. Stanley felt just about that way about it.

The Wisconsin supreme court has just held that the corrupt law in that state is constitutional. While it approached the matter from another angle, the general tenor of the federal decision in the Terre Haute cases seems to have supplied an answer about the same thing is true with respect to the

INDUCEMENT TO SOBRIETY.

(Pittsburg Dispatch.)

The insurance companies are beginning to recognize one of the important deductions from their statistical inquiries. One of them, it is announced, is about to write special insurance policies against accidents and ill health for persons who abstain from the use of intoxicating liquors. An advantage in rates is to be given to those who abstain from intoxicants. This is stated to be the first concession of the kind made in insurance history.

Yet this is the natural deduction from the long line of mortality tables on which tables of insurance rates were based. The first mortality lists included all sorts of lives, people affected with disease, drinkers and every other class. As the insurance risks excluded people with material disease, the insurance experience of actual mortality was much better than shown by the old mortality tables. Six years ago forty-three of the principal life insurance companies agreed to compile the results of their experience in the great variety of risks. The records of over 2,000,000 lives were studied, the inquiry extending over about four years of continuous work. It was by this inquiry settled beyond doubt, that total abstinence live longer than people who use strong drink. Heavy drinkers are the worst class, but moderate drinkers are shorter lived than the total abstainers.

Of course, if the total abstainers are the longest lived it requires a lower rate to make up the reserve to meet their policies at the end of the average expectation of life. And men who keep sober are less likely to sustain serious accidents or undergo dangerous illness than drinkers. The result makes it profitable for insurance companies to offer lower premiums to those who practice total abstinence than to those who do not. One company has put that conclusion into actual practice. Others, no doubt, will follow the example.

A RECIPE FOR A LONG LIFE.

(Kansas City Star.)

John Burroughs, naturalist, optimist and author, passed his seventy-eighth birthday last week, and gave to the reporter for the New York Tribune the secret of how to live long and happily. "Be prudent and temperate in youth, avoid stimulants and excesses of all kinds, work a little, be cheerful always, be sympathetic, live in the country and in the fresh air, eat good fresh food and sleep enough."

That's the recipe. He has lived forty years in a log house he built with his own hands. It is in the woods on the banks of the Hudson. He said to the reporter:

"You city people rush and run and toil hard enough, but it's all at the expense of the later years of life. You haven't the fresh air and food. The noise and speed are distracting to the nerves, and your geniuses never live as long as they might. Up here in the mountains, where there are plenty of birds and other of nature's creatures, I can do my work without interruption. I take care of my health and I feel as young as I did years ago. All my writing is done in the forenoon, as I walk and rest in the latter part of the day. I use my automobile to go to places which I would not otherwise visit, but I walk a great deal."

On his seventy-eighth birthday he cleaned out his furnace, chopped a pile of cordwood, raked the yard, did the chores, walked a mile and a half to visit his grandchildren, and gave one of them this advice:

"Be simple, calm and composed, be outdoors all you can and sleep eight hours every night."

OPPOSE SECOND-CLASS CITY.

Gary Socialists Say It Would Mean Increased Taxes.

Gary, Ind., April 14.—The English and South Slavic organizations of the socialist party here have passed resolutions opposing Gary's being made into a city of the second class, an election for which purpose will be held April 20.

A public mass meeting is to be held in Turner hall Wednesday night, and Sunday there will be a big meeting of Balkan residents at the Macedonian coffee house. In urging that the election be not carried, the socialists say Gary's advancement to a city of the second class would cause increased taxes and would benefit the steel corporation to the detriment of the south side residents.

HANK EVENS UP WITH DUCK-KILLING FISH

Doesn't Need Hook and Line When He Goes Fishing With "Grab."

Benzonia, Mich., April 14.—Hank Meyers and family, including Grab, his pet hawk, are living high on fish these days. Grab has developed into the best fisherman on the lake.

Folks living near Platt lake have been bothered for years by the pickering eating their ducks. Every time the ducks went for a swim on Platt lake the pickering either bit their legs off or pulled them under the water and drowned them. Hank vowed vengeance.

Last summer he shot a young hawk, wounding it. He carried it home and tried to tame it. He succeeded in part, but the hawk seized everyone and every animal that came near him excepting Hank. He can't fly because a wing is crippled, but he certainly can fasten his talons into a dog and hang on—hence his name, Grab.

This spring Hank had an idea. He kept feeding fish to Grab who became very fond of them. Then he got two of those long rubber squealers the kids use, blew them up, tied them so the air could not escape, fastened them under Grab's wings and rowed out onto Platt lake.

He dropped Grab into the water. The hawk didn't like it at first, but pretty soon found the bladders held him up and went floating around. Along came a five-pound pickerel and made a snatch at Grab's legs. He probably was the most surprised fish in the world. Grab got him right by the jaw and hung on until Hank lifted the pickerel into the boat.

Now Grab enjoys it, and Hank says the hawk stands on his window sill and screams at him every morning and won't keep quiet until the bladders are fastened under his wings so he can go fishing.

WORLD'S RECORD IS MADE BY ART SMITH

"Aerial Insanity" Makes
Big Crowd Pale at Exposition.

Art Smith, the Fort Wayne aviator, has made a new record, which now puts him in a class by himself. Flying near the spot where Lincoln Beachey fell to death at the Panama-Pacific exposition at San Francisco a few weeks ago, Smith looped the loop twenty-one times, breaking the world's record. In telling of this wonderful feat a San Francisco paper says:

"There was no enthusiasm when Smith started. The crowd watched anxiously and it was relieved to see Smith get safely away. He waved his arms in the manner of the late Lincoln Beachey as he swept low over the crowd and went on straight up into the sun. Three times he circled over the exposition until he had reached an altitude of almost 5,000 feet. And then just as the crowd had made up its mind that he was determined to fly safe without any fancy work Smith began to loop. Twenty-one times he swung around in the loop, each loop not more than a circle of 150 feet and every one painted on the sky by a pencil of gray smoke. Beachey had never done more than seven loops."

OLD LIBERTY BELL MAY TAKE JOURNEY

Fight is Made to Permit
Relic to Be Shown at San Francisco.

Philadelphia, Pa., April 14.—A determined effort will be made at tomorrow's meeting of city councils to secure the passage of an ordinance permitting the removal of the historic liberty bell from its shrine in Independence hall to the Pennsylvania building at the San Francisco exposition where it will be exhibited until the close of the fair. Mayor Blankenburg and leaders in the city have taken the movement and are willing to see the necessary money appropriated for the expenses of the trip.

Heretofore the proposition has been opposed mainly by patriotic orders and by bodies of women who fear that the precious relic might be destroyed in a railroad wreck or some other accident. Now those favoring the exhibition of the bell in the far western city have secured the support of Admiral Dewey and Gen. Miles and the influence of these distinguished officers having been felt so strongly that there is little doubt that the bell will be permitted to go away, properly guarded by Philadelphia police-men.

Dewey and Miles argued that by reason of conditions in Europe this is a good time to stir up patriotic sentiment among the people of this country and that nothing would have greater influence in this direction than a trip across the continent of the bell which proclaimed liberty throughout the land 139 years ago.

QUEST CLUB PLANS FOR BIG BANQUET

Five Members of Board of Governors to Be Elected
Thursday.

On the theory that "all work and no play makes Jack a dull boy," members of the Quest club are going to play a little at their last meeting for the season to be held at the Anthony hotel Thursday evening, at 6:30 o'clock.

The members are to be free from all sordid business thoughts and cares and are going to bask in the sunshine of wit and merriment and lo! in the luxury of complete relaxation and comfort. The members are requested to wear their business suits with not more than five inches of shirt front exposure.

Immediately after convening a few minutes will be devoted to the matter of electing in open meeting five new members for the board of governors. The members are elected for two years to succeed the following, who retire: G. H. VanArman, B. Paul Mossman, D. A. Corey, W. H. Scheiman and F. J. Thieme.

Six members of the present board remain in office for another year. They are as follows: H. Brooke Sand, W. E. Doud, Robert Koerber, C. A. Meigs, H. P. Fletcher and C. J. Schoo.

These with the five new members will constitute the board for the season 1915-1916.

As soon as this business is completed the entertainment committee appointed especially for this meeting will take full charge and from that time on there will be, in the language of the poets, "something doing, believe me." There are to be no guests.

CANAL REPORT WILL SOON BE COMPLETED

With the report of Captain L. H. Watkins for the proposed Toledo, Fort Wayne and Chicago barge canal practically completed, the four engineers who have been assisting in the final wind-up of the survey will probably quit work Saturday. They are Albert Krueger, A. W. Green, L. G. Thomas and H. S. Sackm.

Captain Watkins, stated Wednesday morning that he expected to have his report entirely completed by the end of the week and ready for the members of the army board who come next week.

The board will meet Captain Watkins and go over the report in detail, but it is not expected that any action will be taken at that time. The members of the army board are Colonel John Mills, Colonel W. V. Judson and Major P. S. Bond. Captain Watkins does not expect to close his office before the first of May.

Mrs. C. Henry, wife of the county agriculturalist, has gone to Hebron, Ohio, to spend a few days with her parents.

After the show high-class dancing at the Anthony Hotel tonight.

A six-mile tunnel which will be bored through mountains in the state of Ohio, is expected to be completed in a few days.

DELINQUENTS MUST PAY FOR NEGLIGENCE

Men Who Drove Cars That
Had No Tags Fined in City Court.

Judge Kerr in the city court is sticking close to his rule laid down last week that men who drive cars on which the 1915 license tags are not displayed must pay a fine of $10 and costs. Two were mulcted in court Wednesday morning. D. O. Christopher, of Van Wert, Ohio, was brought in and pleaded guilty. He was fined $10 and costs. L. Jerome Bobilya, employed in a garage, hopped into a machine and slipped down to the business center for his lunch Tuesday noon and was arrested because his car bore no numbers. In court he had removed them to another car that was wanted. Judge Kerr said he could make no exceptions and assessed a fine of $10 and costs. Bobilya filed an appeal bond and the matter will be determined in the circuit court.

Saloon Brawlers in Court.
Leo Baker and George Doehle were arraigned on charges of assault and battery on George H. Gerke, of 836 Eliza street. The arrests grew out of a brawl in the Kammer saloon in the east end, Monday night. Gerke was the prosecuting witness and his testimony indicated that while he got the worst of the mix-up, he had been taking a busy hand in it. The case of Baker was continued for thirty days and he was released on his own recognizance and Doehle was acquitted.

been taken from his pockets. When he regained his senses he walked to the interurban terminal station and reported to Officer Young. McNamara says he is employed in South Bend by the Standard Oil company and came here to do some work at the local plant of the company. Tuesday night he fell in with two men in a saloon, scraped acquaintance, drank with them and at their request walked on the tracks with them. When they reached a lonely place he was attacked. McNamara's face was badly disfigured, indicating he had been bludgeoned.

FAILED TO FIND JEWELS.

A burglar who ransacked the home of Chester Schiefer, 917 Edgewater avenue, Tuesday night, was frightened away about 10:30 before he had discovered Mrs. Schiefer's jewel box containing jewelry, valued at several hundred dollars, lying on her dressing case. The return home of Mrs. Schiefer and her mother, Mrs. Mason Long, frightened the burglar away and he escaped by opening a front window and going down by means of the porch. A back door had been left open to afford him easy escape, but he could not get out that way without being observed. The house was entered through a collar window. The drawers of bureau and dressing table were ransacked and turned topsy-turvy by the thief in his search for valuables.

New York, April 14.—Charles William MacCORD, professor emeritus of the Stevens institute of technology, and a noted draughtsman, died yesterday at his home in Hoboken, N. J., in his eightieth year.

Professor MacCORD in 1859 became draughtsman for Captain John E. Ericson, and drew the plan for the Monitor, the conqueror of the confederate iron-clad Merrimack which former vessel Ericson designed. He was author of numerous works on mechanics and mathematics.

STRIKERS BUILDING FENCE.

Bridgeport, Ohio, April 14.—J. C. Adams, one of the officials of the United Mine Workers, in charge of the east Ohio strike, estimated today that fully twenty-five miles of fence have been built by strikers in the last two weeks around the community gardens the union is establishing to provide vegetables for the men and their families. The department of agriculture, it was learned, could not supply them with free seeds and fertilizer.

AIR COMPRESSION TANK GIVEN TEST

Honolulu, April 14.—The air compression tank, to be used in the attempt to raise the submerged submarine F-4 today was tested yesterday by Divers Stephen J. Drellishak and Frank Crilly. It was subjected to a pressure of 105 pounds per square inch, which is equivalent to submergence of 235 feet below the surface, and the results were reported satisfactory. It was announced that the apparatus was to be taken today to the scene of operations. The personnel that are to be used to raise the F-4 in case other means prove unavailing have been completed and are ready for use.

The Japanese cruiser Idzumo on leaving Honolulu yesterday steamed in a semi circle about the point where the submarine is believed to lie; the crew were drawn up in salute and the warship's flag was dipped in honor of the twenty-one men who went to their death on the F-4.

Straus, of Kendallville; Mrs. Sam Selig, of Ligonier, and Mrs. Stiefel, of Angola. Pink and white sweetpeas were used for floral decoration made the supper table especially attractive, while sweetpeas, snapdragons and other spring flowers and ferns were grouped on the piano and about the railing of the reception hall attractively. During the supper hour a program of fancy dancing was given by Miss Muriel Larimore and a number of her pupils. Misses Charlotte and Margaret Niblick, two talented children from Decatur, and Miss Helen Pape, of this city. Miss Larimore and the children danced a ballet to Schubert's "moments musicaux," the Niblick girls danced a duet to the Hoffman barcarolle and Miss Pape danced a beautiful solo. Miss Helene Spindler presided at the piano for the music.

REMONSTRANCE FILED AGAINST NEW SCHOOL

Hearing on the Washington Township Building on Monday Afternoon.

A remonstrance containing 394 names of taxpayers has been filed with D. O. McComb, county superintendent, against the proposed new centralized school in Washington township. The superintendent has set Monday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock as the time for hearing the remonstrators. The session will be held in his office in the court house.

The remonstrators have secured the services of Attorneys Belot, Meyers and Dreihelbiss, while Trustee Leonard Stolte will be represented by Attorney Frank Enrick.

Trustee Stolte proposes to erect a building costing approximately $25,000 and with its completion to abolish a number of the smaller schools in the township. Soon after his plan was proposed there was bitter opposition. A suit is now pending in the courts in an effort to prevent the levying of a tax necessary for the construction of the building.

AT THE MAJESTIC.

St. Louis Post-Dispatch on "Trojan Women":

"Nobly played—a lofty achievement. The sustained lamentation of the desolate wives and mothers becomes an unforgettable cry of sorrow and hopeless homelessness. The sombre significance of their speech fills the soul with an unutterable compassion. The purest heights of tragic sublimity (are reached in such) complete poetic beauty magnificently realized (such) majestic sequence of splendid drama. The achievement was made so vitally human that the angel of its ancient figures became as irresistible as though they were men and women of one's own time. And the audience was held spellbound by these great simplicities—spellbound for nearly two hours. The complete performance left a deep impression of tragic beauty upon the minds of the audience."

AT THE EMPRESS.

Audiences at the Empress this week are having one grand gal-lor-i-ous time in picking out the lady of their choice with the "Gay Widows" burlesques. There is a big chorus of good lookers, and Mr. Manintheaudience and his friend next to him are arguing to the best of their abilities trying to induce each other that the angel is prettier than the other. It seems that the producers of this show paid special attention to picking out only the prettiest and the sweetest and the best singers and dancers that could be found, for the work of the chorus at this attraction is a revelation.

AT THE JEFFERSON.

"THE SPANISH JADE."

Paramount Company Presents Magnificent Adaptation of Vance's Novel.

The first contribution of Louis Joseph Vance's to the Paramount list of photoplays is a remarkable interesting adaptation of a novel written by Maurice Hewitt. The picture possesses fine photography and settings. To procure the realistic Spanish locales, the producers have gone to the extent of erecting whole villages, which boast of a considerable substantiality. These scenes, peopled by supernumeraries clothed in picturesque Spanish garb, lend a distinct touch of realism to the whole of the picture.

Beginning Monday, the Jefferson will show the initial release of the new Fort Wayne Animated Monthly, a pictorial newspaper which visualizes instead of printing the news of local interest. The Henderson Film company are issuing the picture.

AT THE COLONIAL.

"THE HOUR OF TEMPTATION."

Wonderful Emotional Actress, Betty Nansen, at the Colonial.

This latest release of the Great Northern Film corporation, "The Hour of Temptation," is the fourth in which they have starred the great Danish tragedienne, Betty Nansen, and it is without a shadow of doubt, the most finished photoplay in which the distinguished diva has yet appeared. Miss Nansen's position as an artist of note in the field of drama is indeed an enviable one, she being considered the foremost emotional actress in the world with the possible exception of Duse and Bernhardt.

Tomorrow brings to the Colonial a marvelous screen adaptation of Friedrich Schiller's masterpiece, "The Robbers," a subject of surpassing interest to all lovers of the better class of picture plays.

Newsies Enjoy the First Treat of Entire Week of Big Funfest

Three Hundred Sentinel Newsies and Carriers, Headed by the Newsboy King, March to Jefferson Theater.

Yesterday was a big day for about 300 boys who sell and carry the Daily Sentinel, being entertained at the Jefferson theater, where a good program was witnessed. This was only the starting of the biggest week of fun the boys have ever been given, and they are to have the time of their lives as the guests of The Sentinel this week.

The little street merchants met at The Sentinel office yesterday at 6 p. m. and were greeted by Sam Tomison, the Newsboy King, who, after giving the boys a short lecture, was enthusiastically cheered. The boys were immediately lined up and headed by a big banner and the Newsboy King, they marched in a body through the principal streets, yelling and cheering, until they reached the Jefferson theater.

The boys were well behaved and were not a bit backward in showing their appreciation, as each and every reel was liberally applauded. While Tomison believes in showing his new made friends a good time, he also believes in handing out some good advice to the boys.

Foe of Cigarettes. He is particularly strong in picturing the evils of cigarette smoking. Here is what he had to say to a bunch of newsies yesterday:

"There is one terrible habit that I want to warn all you boys about, and that is the cigarette habit. Do you know that for every man, woman and child in the United States today there are smoked 126 cigarettes? Now every one knows that there are men, women and boys who do not smoke cigarettes; so you can imagine what a lot of the cigarette has well been named 'the coffin nail,' for everyone who smokes them takes off just so much from the length of his life. Moreover, cigarettes injure every year 1,000,000 pairs of lungs and 1,000,000 pairs of eyes and generally health-destroying things are smoked by the people who do have the habit. The weakens the entire constitution. Perhaps you know that cigarette smoke is one of the worst things known for eyes. The smoke gets into them, weakens them, and after a while it becomes necessary to wear glasses. Just ask the man who wears glasses and spectacles."

AT THE NEW PALACE.

Cecil Lean at New Palace.

Musical Comedy Star With Cleo Mayfield Heads Bill.

"Some bride" is the unanimous verdict at the New Palace as Cleo Mayfield sweeps down the aisle, gowned in filmy white, to meet Cecil Lean, the impressive and flirtatious squire, who is to marry her to James Billings, in the delectable touch of Cecil Lean's remarkable assemblage of songs and travesties on the current bill. As a matter of fact, Miss Mayfield really is a bride, as it has been only a few weeks since she became Mrs. Cecil Lean in private life. Mr. Lean himself is as irresistibly funny as ever he was in his star roles in "Bright Eyes," "The Man With Three Wives," etc. The telephone song carried on between a man at the club and his wife affords some excellent "poker comedy," while the sea going voyage is as pleasant as it is novel. There is nothing stereotyped about Mr. Lean. He has his own way of doing things and how good that way is, is best evidenced by the fact that next week he goes to New York to start rehearsals for the leading role in a new musical comedy.

SAM TOMISON, NEWSBOY KING.

and he will tell you that what I say is true; that is, unless he is one of those bad men, who wants little boys to have poor eyes, so he can have the business of making glasses for them. Boys, if you value your health, if you want to have an active brain, to be smart, to amount to something, and to be a pride to your father and mother, and to your town, and to your country, cast aside the cigar and the pipe, and above all, never let a drop of liquor pass your lips; be clean and be temperate.

Urges Education.

"Another thing, boys, don't fail to get an education, if it is a possible thing for you to do. Remember that the boy of today must have as much knowledge as did the diplomat and statesman of many years ago. Yes, I feel safe in saying that the well educated boy of today is at least 50 per cent. wiser than the old time diplomat, and the man of education. One of the most serious indictments against the cigarette habit among boys is that it bars the way to scholarship. The cigarette smoking student seldom becomes a scholar. He lacks the application, the persistent, tenacious effort that is the price of all scholastic attainment. His intentions are good, but after smoking a cigarette the purpose of study becomes vague and shadowy, the mind dull and dreamy, the will weak and flabby and the lesson, which before seemed important and necessary, now appears trivial and worthless. He is not a student and therefore cannot become a scholar. All he can hope to be is a dull minded, densebrained plodder. I wish every boy in this country would take this advice. A boy who loves his mother would not smoke cigarettes. She may not tell you she despises it, but while you are smoking she is thinking of the years of toil and care she devoted to bring you up to be a success and knows that every draw of a cigarette smoke is a setback to your career. So I say again, don't chew, don't drink, don't smoke—have a clean character, be honest to your parents, be polite, be on time, keep clean, always smile and bank your money."

Tomison finished his talk when he announced that the boys would visit the Lyric theater, where a good show is promised them by Mr. P. L. Warner, the manager. The boys will meet at 6 p. m. this evening at The Sentinel office, where they will receive free tickets. "Cheer but its great ter sell de Daily Sentinels. Annoder big show terday, an some more shows fer der whole week!"

MAYOR AND BOARD MEMBERS MAROONED

Held in Wheeling and Not Able to Get Here for Boiler Awards.

The board of works had a meeting scheduled for 2 o'clock Wednesday afternoon with a half score of agents for boiler manufacturers at which time it was expected that the contract would be awarded for furnishing a big boiler to be installed in the city light and power works. The agents were on hand and one-third of the board in the person of Frank E. Singery. But Mayor Hoxey and Board Members Robert E. Kelly and Henry Hilgemann were not there and the session had to be postponed. A telegram from Chairman Kelly arrived Wednesday morning announcing that himself, the mayor, Member Hilgemann and Chief Engineer Henry Zauner, of the city power plant were marooned in Wheeling, W. Va., owing to bad train connections and could not get here before Thursday. The party left on Monday to inspect some boilers in power plants at Nelsonville and other Ohio cities. How the party happened to get across the Ohio river into West Virginia will be consistently explained by Chairman Kelly when the city officials return.

ANNEXATION ORDINANCE PASSED.

City's Area is Extensively Enlarged by Harrison Hill.

Following a favorable report by the committee of the whole on the ordinance to annex the Harrison Hill addition of fifty-seven acres to the territory of the city, the council passed the measure Tuesday evening. The ordinance had been amended to include a strip 150 feet deep on the east side of Calhoun street and paralleling the east front of the addition so that steps may be taken for paving Calhoun street. The companies promoting both tracts have made suitable contracts with the board of works for installing sewers, water mains and electric light lines and for paving Calhoun street without cost to the city.

The council suspended the rules and passed an ordinance to restore State boulevard, from Florida drive to its eastern terminus, to the control of the board of works. Action was hastened because State street is to be paved this year.

The council also suspended the rules to pass an ordinance appropriating $500 to the department of finance to pay the city's share of the judgment in damages given to Mrs. Henry Bequette, 802 East Washington street, for injuries received from contact with an electric wire. The suit was brought against the city, the Bell Telephone company and the Fort Wayne and Northern Indiana Traction company.

The council passed an ordinance creating the position of lineman in the fire department and another approving a contract made by the board of works for cast iron pipe for the waterworks department.

The following ordinances were referred: To the committee on rules, regulations and ordinances a measure to prevent vehicles from standing within thirty feet of any fire plug; to the committee on fees and salaries, a measure fixing the maximum and minimum salaries of certain officials and employees in the park department; a measure to give the park board control of Anthony boulevard from Maumee avenue to the Maumee river.

PLAN TO MOTORIZE DEPARTMENT.

Could Be Brought About by Cutting Down Track Elevation Levy.

During the discussion that followed an address to the city council by Charles B. Fitch on the subject of better fire protection, President William A. Beyer, of that body, suggested that motorization of the entire fire department could be brought about in a few years by cutting down the track elevation tax levy to 5 cents and devoting the 5 cents cut off to the department equipment. President Beyer said that with $122,000 in the track elevation fund there was plenty of money on hand for that purpose for the present. Other councilmen approved the plan. Such an expedient would produce about $20,000 annually from taxes and the saving in the expenses of the department would go far to help bear the expense of motorization, which it is estimated would cost about $65,000. Mr. Fitch in behalf of the (quest club, urged motorization of the fire department and the creation of a high water pressure system in the business district, which would cost $100,000. He proposed that the city issue bonds to procure means for both. Saving in the cost of maintaining the fire department and in insurance rates he said would soon reimburse the people for the expenditures.

EAST SIDE PARK DUE FIRST.

Councilmen Believe Addition to Swinney Park Should Wait.

That the next park project developed in Fort Wayne should be for the great east end of the city is the view of a large part of the councilmanic body and expressions of that tenor were brought out at the council meeting Tuesday night during an impromptu discussion of the subject with President D. N. Foster and Secretary C. J. Steles, of the park board. Councilman at Large Jacob Hartman, who resides in the east end, called attention to the rapid growth of the city eastward and gave the opinion that before the lapse of many years the city and New Haven would merge. An east end park would then be central for all of that part. The park, when created, should be called "Central park," said Mr. Hartman. He believed that the people of that part of the city were willing to be assessed for half the cost of acquiring the White property, east of Glasgow avenue, if the city at large would bear the other half of the cost. For this reason Mr. Hartman and other councilmen believed that the project to purchase the Cresler, Randall and Lennon tracts across the St. Mary's river west of Swinney park, while an excellent thing to do should be carried out by assessing a park district in the west end and not by taking money from the general fund.

DROPS DEAD WHILE DOING HOUSE WORK

Mrs. Rosina Berger Passes Away Following Attack of Heart Trouble.

A few minutes after arising from the breakfast table, Wednesday morning, while engaged in her household duties, Mrs. Rosina Berger, 2026 Riedmiller avenue, was suddenly stricken with heart trouble and died immediately. She fell to the floor and when members of the family reached her side, life was extinct.

Mrs. Berger had been ailing for the past eight years but at no time was her condition considered serious and even while seated at the table Wednesday morning seemed to be in the best of spirits. Death came at the age of 70 years and six months. She was the wife of Valentine Berger.

Born in Wuerttemberg, Germany, she came to this country and directly to Fort Wayne in 1860 where she has resided ever since. She was a devoted member of the St. John Lutheran church and an active worker in all of its affairs. Besides the husband, she is survived by the following children: Mrs. Charles Scheimann, of Indianapolis; Albert Hartstein and Edward, Henry, Oscar, Garlan and Grover Bauch, of this city. Four grandchildren, two great grandchildren and two sisters and a brother, Mrs. Caroline Fruechtelicht, of Adams township, and Mrs. Barbara Moeschmidt and Henry Weidener, of Germany, also survive her.

SARASIE.

Ozine Sarasiene, a pioneer resident of Washington township, died late Tuesday afternoon at the home of his daughter, Mrs. L. C. Kleinhert, 3114 South Calhoun street, at the age of 78 years. Death followed an illness of one week and was due to Bright's disease.

Mr. Sarasiene was born in France, December 6, 1847, but came to America and directly to this county with his parents when he was but a young boy. The family located in Washington township where Mr. Sarasiene spent practically all of his life. His wife preceded him in death fifteen years ago and since that time he has made his home with his daughter at whose home he died.

The deceased is survived by four children—Mrs. Alexander Pope, of Washington township; Mrs. P. J. Sweeney, Mrs. L. C. Kleinhert and Louis Sarasiene of this city. Five step-children also survive—Frank, Joseph, Peter, Julian and Amelia Fair. Mr. Sarasiene was a member of the St. Vincent's Catholic church.

KUYKENDOLL.

Mrs. Lula Kuykendoll (colored) aged eighteen years, died Tuesday evening at the St. Joseph hospital following a brief illness of but one day's duration. Death was due to pneumonia. She was the wife of Ashley Kuykendoll, of 1014 Wells street, who has been employed as janitor at the Heit Miller Lau and company's plant for the past three years.

Besides the husband she is survived by her parents and one sister, Miss Mable Asher.

Funeral services were held Tuesday evening at 11:30 o'clock at the Getz & Cahill parlors. The body was shipped at 6 o'clock via interurban to Crekesboro, Ky., her birthplace, for burial.

ROELLE.

Mrs. Carolina Roelle, who has made her home at the St. Joseph hospital for several years, died at that place Wednesday morning following an illness of over a year's duration due to complications. She was the widow of Frank Roelle, a policeman who died nine years ago. The deceased was 71 years of age.

Mrs. Roelle was born in Dayton, O., but had resided in Fort Wayne for 48 years. She was a member of the St. Mary's Catholic church and is survived by the following children: Mrs. A. W. ARREST FOLLOWS AN AUTO SMASH UP

James Porter Charged With Violating Speed Regulations.

On a warrant sworn to by Chief of Police Charles Lenz, Wednesday afternoon, James Porter, of the Shryock Auto Sales company, was arrested for violating the speed regulations. It is charged he was greatly exceeding the lawful speed Tuesday night, when his racing car was wrecked on a Washington street, just off of Hanna, spilling himself, another man and two women and badly damaging a large maple shade tree into which the automobile plunged.

Porter and the other man were cut about the face and one of the women was so badly hurt that she was taken to the Lutheran hospital. Her kneecap was broken and the ligaments of the leg were badly wrenched. The other woman was thrown upon her face and seriously cut and bruised. She was taken hurriedly away by her male companion.

SISTERS SUB SERVICE CO.

Jeffersonville, Ind., April 14.—Following a suit by Miss Maggie O'Connell for $25,000 damages for alleged false arrest, Miss Frances B. O'Connell, her sister, has filed suit for $10,000 for assault and battery.

The defendant in each case is the United Gas and Electric company and both suits arise out of the attempt of the sisters to prevent the company from replacing a defective pole. The sisters said employees of the company were crowding on their property and they are said to have threatened them with a revolver. A peace warrant was served on Miss Maggie O'Connell. Following her release from jail, she filed suit. Another attempt was made to fix the pole. The Misses O'Connell said the company invaded their property.

Mr. Walsh said that an examiner would be provided for such records.

ORA TONKEL MAKES RECORD.

The following note from the Kalamazoo Gazette will be of interest to local bowlers:

"Ora Tonkel, the old Fort Wayne star, this morning indicated that he is far from being in the 'has been' class when he threw up a record of 691 pins for three games on the Ramby-Worthington alleys. The scores rolled were 225, 254 and 212. This is considered a remarkable showing and places Tonkel up among the leading bowling artists of the city."

JESS WILLARD'S LIFE STORY.

Cowboy Loses His First Fight on Foul.

(By Left Hook.)

CHAS. FERN, III.
About the time that Rube Ferns, the mid-weight champion, was getting the southwest interested in welterweights and developing a few boys of the class, Jess Willard quit Kansas and moved on into Oklahoma for better pickings in the horse trading field. Kansas had given up cows and had gone in for corn.

In Oklahoma City less than five years ago Willard saw his first prize fight, and naturally his first pair of boxing gloves. He witnessed a battle between Harry Brewer and Clarence English, two of the welterweights in the elimination contests that brought out Wildcat Ferns as a temporary star, as fight fans will remember.

On Jan. 11, 1911, Carl Morris, the giant fireman, knocked out Spike Kennedy in two rounds at Sapulpa, Okla., his home town, and Jess Willard, now a dyed-in-the-wool fight fan, was at the ring side. "If those fellows can get by with it I can," thought Willard.

A friend took him up to the Olympic club in Oklahoma City, where an occasional quiet boxing match was held and drinks served in secret defiance of the prohibition of the "boom" state.

Willard, unaware that anything else besides his size made a boxer, announced himself as a fighter and ready for opponents. He was openly sneered at and several of the hangers-on, with confidence born of some little skill, invited him to try on the gloves.

But there was one fellow in the room who did not sneer at this giant from the prairie. He was a D. D. Brock, fight promoter and all-round chance taker. He persuaded Willard not to box any of them but permitted him to try the punching bag.

About that time a punching bag was as foreign as a finger bowl to the bronzed Kansan and for every wallop this certain piece of inflated leather had received it averaged itself a hundred fold on Willard's face. Jess swung haymaker after haymaker, starting them at the floor at the end of the line. When he didn't nearly dislocate the shoulder with a miss and did smash the elastic thing it swung back with sufficient force to give him a nasty slap and a roar of laughter among the spectators.

When Jess got through that afternoon he announced to the scoffers that he would never give up until he was champion of the world. He marched out of the room.

AMERICAN LEAGUE GETS INTO ACTION

Good Weather and Enthusiasm in Every City in Circuit.

New York, April 14.—For baseball fans throughout the country this was the most memorable day of the year, the day for which they waited six long months, the day of the opening of the big league season. The Washington weather bureau promised fair weather to greet the thousands who were to gather in baseball parks in the east and the west to welcome old favorites and new faces on the diamond.

In accord with ancient custom the great game was to receive official endorsement by President Wilson in Washington in tossing the first ball upon the diamond while Mayor Mitchell in New York and other officials in various cities performed similar functions. President Taft, of the National league, planned to attend the opening game of the New York and Brooklyn clubs at the Polo grounds here. The league's president was in an optimistic mood.

PRESIDENT TO OPEN GAME.

Washington, April 14.—With President Wilson ready to lay aside the cares of his office and toss out the first ball, thereby starting hostilities between the Washington and New York American league baseball teams, official and unofficial fandom was all agog over the inauguration of the baseball season here today. The baseball spirit was in evidence everywhere and indications were for a record breaking crowd. Government officials and employees prepared to take a half holiday in order to witness the opening game.

DETROIT IS CRIPPLED.

Detroit, Mich., April 14.—Because of the absence of First Baseman Burns, who is slowly recovering from the effects of an operation for appendicitis, and Third Baseman and Captain Moriarity, who is laid up with an injured foot, Detroit was forced to start the American league season with two substitutes in the field. These substitutes, Kavanagh and Vitt, respectively, are old members of the team, however.

CINCINNATI CONDITIONS GOOD.

Cincinnati, O., April 14.—Weather conditions were favorable early today for an auspicious opening of the National league championship season by the Pittsburgh and Cincinnati National clubs.

Mayor Frederick Spiegel was carried to throw out the first ball.

ALL'S WELL IN CHICAGO.

Chicago, April 14.—With St. Louis as their opponents, the Chicago Nationals were ready for the opening game of the season here today. The day was clear and preparations had been made to handle a record breaking crowd. A parade of automobiles from Grant park on the lake front to the ball park, and the usual opening day ceremonies were to precede the game.

JOHNSON AT ST. LOUIS.

St. Louis, April 14.—St. Louis enthusiasts are ready for the fourteenth annual opening of the local American league baseball season this afternoon, and the advance sale of tickets indicates a great crowd.

Sam Johnson, president of the American league, will attend the contest.

IN THE NATIONAL.

Philadelphia, Pa., April 14.—Fair weather greeted the fans who traveled to Shibe park today to see the opening game of the season between the Philadelphia American league champions and Boston.

This was Lajoie day, in honor of Napoleon Lajoie, the veteran second baseman, who came back to Philadelphia after an absence of 13 years. Incidental to the opening day exercises the 1914 American league pennant was hung to the breeze.

IN BOSTON.

Boston, April 14.—The opening of the National league baseball season for the world's champion Boston team, eager to start its first game against Philadelphia at Fenway park today. Mayor Curley had accepted an invitation to throw out the first ball and a band concert was arranged as part of the opening day's ceremonies.

PENNSY SHOP TEAM.

Harry Hamm Collects Bunch of Old Stars for This Season.

The Pennsylvania shop league team, with practically the same lineup that captured everything there was to capture in the Fort Wayne shop league race two years ago, will be in the field as an independent organization this year. Harry Hamm will manage the organization and in the lineup there will such old-timers as Buck Benoy, Fred Romary, Lauer, Myers, Fowler and a number of others.

THE SEMI-PRO LEAGUE.

Mart Cleary's Managers Get Together at Anthony.

The Indiana-Ohio trolley league meeting will be held at the Anthony hotel Wednesday with delegates from half a dozen nearby towns present. League ball will be a novelty to many of the surrounding towns, and a great deal of interest is attached to the new league.

STEWART TO FIGHT.

Hal Stewart, of this city, meets Young Otto at Lima, O. Wednesday night, and the go is scheduled for ten rounds. A collection of Fort Wayne fans are expected to see the fight.

GREAT PITCHING STAFF WITH PHILLIES, BUT— Pat Moran's Crew Won't Win the Pennant.

(By Hugh S. Fullerton.)

Philadelphia—anywhere from second to eighth.

Here is a baseball club strong enough to base pennant hopes in the weakened league that almost all the dopesters are figuring will finish last. Just how it can be figured last is hard to tell unless the dopesters entirely lack faith in Pat Moran and refuse to believe he can make the machine run.

The entire problem seems to revolve around Moran, one of the finest, cleanest and smartest fellows in baseball. The chances are that the meddlers who have interfered with the management for several years will cut in again and prevent Moran from working out his own salvation. But if they do not this team is pretty fair.

Its main strength is in pitchers, and it has a staff that, if it belonged to McGraw, would cause the New Yorkers to be claiming the pennant hands down. Moran has an extraordinary knack of handling and of judging pitchers and their condition. He was Frank Chance's right hand man with the old Chicago Cubs and many a game depended upon his judgment of the condition of the pitcher at the start.

He has a strong pitching staff—just look it over: Alexander, one of the best in the country; Mayer, a wonder with many teams; Al Demaree, who slipped with the Giants last year, but who has a lot of brains, and may come back; Oeschger, who would be a pennant winner with two or three teams; Eppa Rixey, who ought to be a marvel; Baumgartner, Ben Tincup, Jacobs and Mattison. He probably will have to lose two of these to keep within bounds.

He has one of the best, fastest and smartest catching staffs in the country with Killifer as the leader. Kill did not shine so brightly last season, but is due to come out of eclipse. Besides, he has Burns and young Adams, who was a crackerjack with New Orleans last year.

The infield is fair; above average for the league and much steeper than most. Luderus is a big flat-footed fellow, rather slow and unwieldy and lacking in hustle, but he hits hard and cleans up. He hits with special effect on the home grounds, where the right field wall is short.

Niehoff, obtained from Cincinnati, is a fair second baseman, who ought to improve, and Bancroft looks as if he is one of the best young ball players in the country.

Bobby Byrne probably will play third most of the time, although if he wears or his veteran legs give way Moran has Milton Stock, ex-Giant, to reinforce the position.

If Moran gets that team to working together it is very liable to mussy up the entire league standing.

JESS WILLARD.

(By Lee Shippy, the Missouri Humorist.)

Gents all, hail this here Willard find, and hail the best you can!

Hail like an April thunderstorm, for he's the world's best man!

Hail large as goose eggs if you can, and hail for all you're worth—

We've got a white man once again for champion of the earth!

We thought that you was just a freak when first we lamed you, Jess; Lord! How we used to laugh at you—and how we missed our guess!

We thought that you was just a pole for stringing wires upon, But you sure strung the lot of us, and strung us plenty, son.

We never realized them arms that hung a mile or so

Down from your shoulders, free from charms, could push out such a blow;

We never realized your range was just about the same

As that of them there German guns that made the allies lame.

We never realized that you was just the guy that

Since poor old Jeff got crumpled up—had hoped and prayed to see,

Nor saw that you was built out-size to give you just the swipe

This irritatin' Clunder from the public eye to wipe.

It most makes us religious, Jess—the good Lord most 'a made

You just to roll the Cloud away, to dissipate the Shade,

To drive this gloom from Sportdom and eradicate this Blot

And wipe this Smudge forever from the game's most sacred spot.

And so we hail you, Jess, my boy (start hailing there, gents all!)

For in the ring, bullock, you're as good as you are tall.

You're homely as an old sod house on Kansas plains afar,

But, golly! how we love you, little one— Jess as you are!

S. E. COTTER SPENDS FEW HOURS IN CITY

Wabash Superintendent is Making Inspection of Terminal Points.

General Supt. S. E. Cotter, of the Wabash, spent two hours in the city this morning. His private car came in on No. 28, was cut out and attached to No. 18 and taken to Toledo, where Mr. Cotter will spend the day looking after business matters. He came as far east as Peru yesterday and laid over last night there. Some of the division officials, including Supt. Salitt, Division Engineer W. S. Dames, Master Mechanic G. W. Smith and Trainmaster C. E. Wells, accompany Mr. Cotter over the division.

At the B. L. E. hall at Cherry and West Main streets tomorrow evening, Nickel Plate division, No. 513, Grand International Auxiliary to the B. L. E., will have a parcel post sale and penny supper, which will be an innovation in social functions in auxiliary ranks. All articles are to be sent to the hall by parcel post, where a committee will receive them, and each parcel will be sold for ten cents—no more, no less. At the supper, which will include many articles of food, each article will be sold for a penny, making it possible for the person purchasing to get a "square meal" for a few cents. The parcel post feature will be in charge of Mrs. C. F. Merriett, Mrs. M. J. Maloney, Mrs. W. E. Everett, Mrs. Marion Robbins, Mrs. A. W. Coulter and Mrs. Frank M. Baldwin. While due attention will be given to the business of the convention, the gathering will not be devoid of social features. The program announces social events, each afternoon after 2 o'clock. These include auto sight-seeing trips, surf bathing, banquets, visit to the soldiers' camp grounds, Texas City; a big dance and boating excursions to points in Mexico on the Gulf coast.

Co-operative Store Company Stockholders to Have Meeting.

At a meeting in the High school auditorium tonight, a site for the Co-operative store will be discussed and probably settled. STRUCK BY WATER PLUG.

John Gillardo, a Pennsylvania brakeman, sustained a bad gash over the eye at 5:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon, when he was struck by a water plug at Plymouth, as he was leaning out of the gangway of the engine, looking towards the rear of the train. The force of the blow knocked Mr. Gillardo off the engine and dazed him for awhile. He was attended by Dr. Aspinwall and taken to the hospital. He will soon be at home again. The injured man was a member of Conductor Wells' crew.

VISITED HIS SHOPMATES.

Mr. Burgess is one of the most active old men in the city. He was eighty-four years old on his last birthday, but a person unacquainted with the facts and taking a guess on his age would not put the figure beyond sixty-five.

Supper will be served from 5:30 to 7 o'clock, followed by the dance feature. The auxiliary ladies and their families and the members of the B. L. E. and E. are invited to attend.

CHICAGO GRAIN AND PROVISIONS.

Chicago, April 14.—Wheat, scored a lively advance in price today as a result of large export sales said to have been made yesterday at the seaboard.
After opening 3/4c to 1 1/4c higher prices underwent a reaction and then again took the upgrade.
Speculators sold corn freely despite bullish cables. The opening, which varied from 1/4c off to a like advance, was followed by a decline all around.
Oats weakened in sympathy with corn. Lower quotations for hogs had a bearish effect on provisions.

THE DAY ON WALL STREET.

New York, April 14.—Bethlehem Steel was again the disturbing feature of today's stock market, opening with a sale of 1,000 shares at 123 to 129, against yesterday's final price of 125. The stock steadily ascended to 140, then making a five-point jump to 145, an advance of twenty points in less than ten minutes. From this level it descended even more speedily to 120, losing three-quarters of its pyrotechnic rise. The balance of the list was strong but orderly, Union Pacific and Southern Pacific rising from one to almost three points, with further substantial gains in automobile shares. Trading was active during the first half hour.

It was estimated that 700,000 shares changed hands during the morning. Bethlehem Steel became increasingly inactive after the first hour, recovering six points from its decline to 130, only to fall back again. Business broadened with the progress of the session until it comprehended even the most inactive issues. Union Pacific, Reading, U. S. Steel and Coppers falling back a point. Bonds were irregular.

Mr. Bookwalter said, he was entertained in Mr. Nelson's home.

"Col. Nelson had me 'buffaloed' as a kid," said Mr. Bookwalter last night. "I started in working for him and Mr. Morris in Fort Wayne as a printer's 'devil' when I was 16 years old. He was 22 years older than I was, and you know that difference in a man's age over the age of a 16-year-old boy causes a youngster to look up to the older man."

"To tell the truth I was afraid of the colonel. I must have been afraid of him because he was my boss, and because he didn't have much to say around the shop. He was a kind and genial man, and was always considered a good friend of all the boys. He was a good, wholesome character and a staunch friend."

"The last time I met him was in the Waldorf in New York. He was in a very pleasant reunion there. When I met him I was serving my last term as mayor, and I told him how as a boy he used to have me 'buffaloed.' He laughed and seemed to enjoy the joke on me very much. I feel that his death has been a personal loss."

When Mr. Nelson went to Kansas City and purchased the Star, Mr. Bookwalter said he "struck" him for a job and became a sub-reporter.

RECALLS HIS WORK FOR COL. NELSON

Hon. C. A. Bookwalter Was

Printer's "Devil" in His Office.

Indianapolis, April 14.—Charles A. Bookwalter, in expressing regret yesterday on the death of W. R. Nelson, editor of the Kansas City Star, recalled the time when he started his business career as a printer's "devil" in the office of the Fort Wayne Sentinel, then owned by Mr. Nelson and Samuel E. Morris. Since news of the death of the editor was received here, it has been recalled that Mr. Bookwalter in campaign speeches frequently has related amusing incidents which occurred in his first employment.

It is believed that no Indiana man had more reason to mourn the loss of Mr. Nelson than Mr. Bookwalter, who has been a sub-reporter of the Sentinel for many years.

RUSSIANS FORCE AN AUSTRIAN RETREAT

Capture Section of Mountain Barrier After Desperate Encounter of Twelve Hours.

Today's War News Given in Summary.

After a twelve hour battle the Russians have captured another section of the mountain barrier between Galicia and Hungary. A dispatch from Lemberg, Galicia, tells of a Russian attack on the Austrian forces at Mezolaborcz in the east Beskids. The Austrians were forced to give ground and it is said the main mountain crest in this region, considered impregnable, has passed into the hands of the Russians.

This battle was an incident in a struggle of unusual severity now in progress along a front of more than 100 miles, from Bartfeld, northern Hungary, to Stry, eastern Galicia. Petrograd reports that both sides are attacking simultaneously and that the losses are heavy.

The Austrians in Bukovina and the Germans in northern Poland are making small movements, interpreted in Petrograd as intended to force the Russians to withdraw some of their troops from the Carpathian front.

Renewal of the bombardment in the Dardanelles by the allied fleet is reported at many points, but not of decisive character.

Lemberg, April 13.—(Via Petrograd, April 14).—In a desperate attack by the Russians on the right flank of the Austrian position at Mezolaborcz, on the Hungarian side of the East Beskids mountains and about fifty miles south of Przemyśl, the Austrians were forced after a twelve hour battle to make a precipitate retreat.

The whole main crest in this district which the Austrians considered to be impregnable, now is in Russian hands. The main body of the Austrian army then moved on Roskocz, where they found the Russians prepared in a strong defensive position and they again were repulsed. Another attack made by the Austrians in the southern district of Uzsok and Vozetzk occupied a position three miles from Uzsok.

The left flank of this Austrian army, under command of Archduke Joseph Ferdinand, is being gradually exposed by the Russian advances toward Bartfeld and Gummene.

FIGHTING EVERY FOOT.

Austro-German Forces Stoutly Resist Advance of Russians.

Petrograd, April 14.—Austro-German forces which still hold isolated summits of the Carpathians are contesting stubbornly every foot of the Russian advance along the route from Bartfeld to Stry. This front runs almost due east and west for 115 miles. Bartfeld is in northern Hungary and Stry in eastern Galicia to the south of Lemberg.

Attacks and counter attacks follow with such rapidity that both sides may be said to be taking the offensive simultaneously. The shocks are resulting in unusually heavy casualties, with only a slight change in the comparative positions of the opposing forces. Uzsok, near the pass of that name still remains in the possession of the Austrians but the Russians have captured the heights to the northward, coming within three miles of the railroad station and their occupation of the town itself is expected. The Austrians are vigorously repeating their efforts to penetrate from Bukovina into Russian territory in the

Gen. Funston Goes to Take Personal Charge

Washington, April 14.—Major General Frederick Funston, commanding the American forces on the Mexican frontier, is enroute today from San Antonio to Brownsville, Texas, to take personal charge of the situation there which has again become threatening in the consequence of the falling of Mexican bullets into American territory. Reporting to the war department today, Gen. Funston said that although bullets struck the Brownsville side during the fighting yesterday, there were no casualties. The general will be accompanied to Brownsville by Col. Chase W. Kennedy, his chief of staff.

Col. Blockson, at Brownsville, in a report forwarded by Gen. Funston, said direction of Choty. The Russians characterize this move as a device on the part of the Austrians for drawing Russian troops from the Carpathians. They assert that the Austrians have been unable to bring up sufficient reinforcements to check the Russian advance, and that the only alternative for the Austrians is to divert part of the Russian forces in other directions.

To the north in the district along the Prussian frontier, there are no movements of first importance. Small battles are a daily occurrence in the Mariampol district. The Germans have occupied fortified positions from Mariampol to Suwalki since their unsuccessful invasion of a month ago. The Russians are attempting persistently to oust the Germans from this region. The Szczupia river, flowing northward from Mariampol forms a strong protection for the German left wing.

The Germans are attempting to undertake an offensive movement at several points along the Narew river but are avoiding battle in the district beyond the Niemen, where the mazy conditions of the ground makes maneuvers difficult.

FRENCH USE DEADLY GASES.

Allies Driven Out by Germans After Temporary Success.

Brussels, April 14.—The German army headquarters today gave out the following information:

"In the western arena: The attempt made by the enemy to advance at night at Berry-au-Bac failed. "Northwest of Verdun the French yesterday employed against our lines a mine developing yellowish smoke and asphyxiating gases. "Between the Neuse and Moselle fighting continues. During a strong

TWO CARGOES OF DYESTUFFS COMING

Allied Fleet Will Not Interfere With Present Shipment.

Washington, April 14.—Arrangements have been completed for the shipment to America of two cargoes of German dye stuffs which were paid for by the American importers before March 1 and are now at Rotterdam.

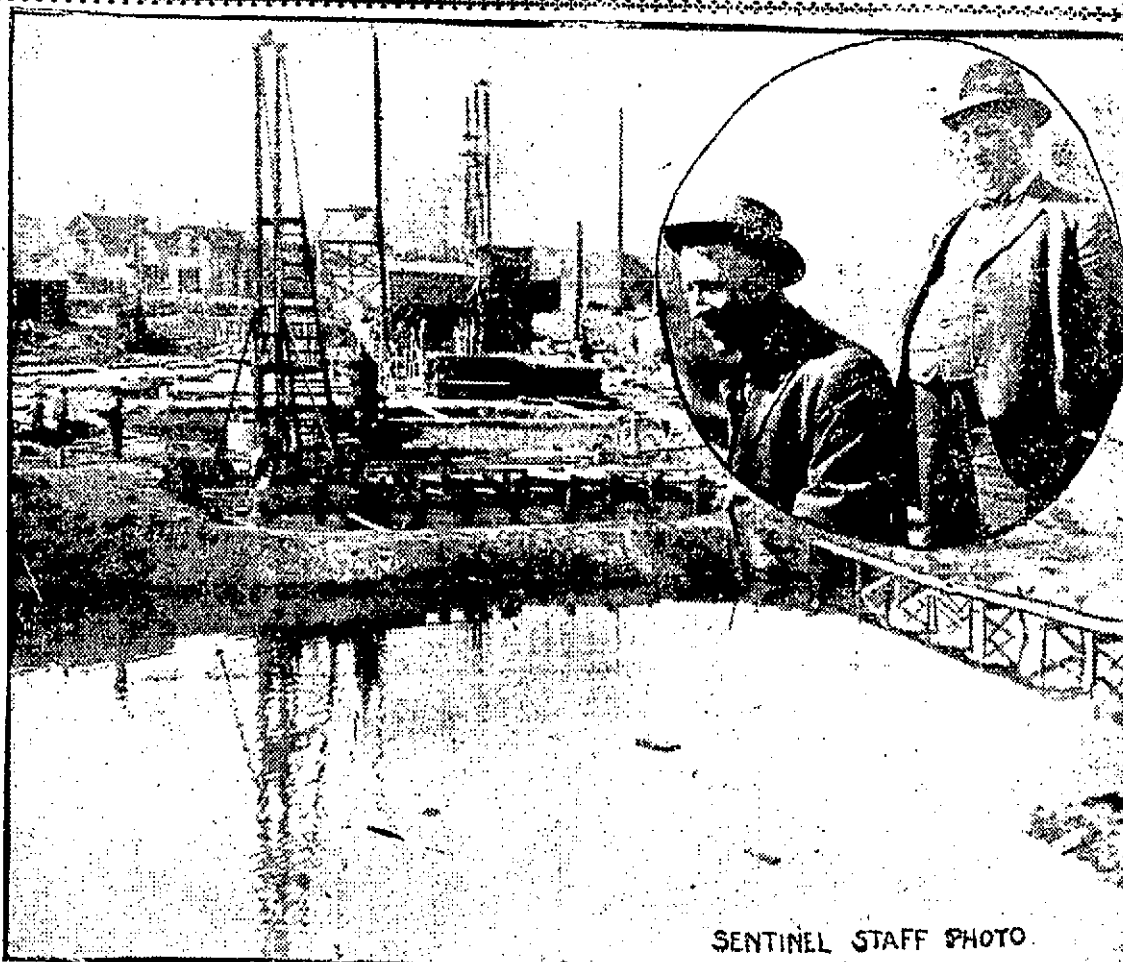

This information was conveyed to the state department today by the British embassy. The cargoes in question are on the steamers Guantamo and City of Savannah. According to the arrangements these cargoes will not be interfered with by the allied fleet, provided they are under a neutral flag and consigned to Secretary Redfield, of the department of commerce, for the direct use of consumers of the dye stuffs.

The arrangement is understood to have been effected directly with the British government by the representative in London of the American textile manufacturers and no provision is made for the supply of dye stuffs to the regular dealers in this country. It is stated at the British embassy that there has been no objection to the shipment of dye stuffs under the conditions announced today and the delay in moving the cargoes was said to be attributable to the difficulty in establishing the facts.

the police yesterday extended from a point about one-half mile in front of the right flank of Carranza's trenches from the Brownsville pumping station. It was in the vicinity of the pumping station that the bullets fell on the American side, when Villa forces had two field pieces in action during the engagement and fired about twenty shots into Matamoros.

According to reports from Matamoros to the Carranza agency here today, the sortie against the Villa troops yesterday resulted in the killing of 300 of the besiegers and the capture of many prisoners, with two hundred horses, sixty mules, four machine guns, a large number of rifles and a quantity of ammunition.

DAN CUPID GOES WEST WITH PARTY

Result is Marriage of W. C. Stellhorn and Miss Rosa A. Weis.

When W. C. Stellhorn, senior member of the clothing firm of Stellhorn and Neireiter, left on March 14 with a party of Fort Wayne friends for the Panama-Pacific exposition at San Francisco, little did he think he would return to this city a married man.

But Dan Cupid was a member of the party, although nobody knew it until later, with the result that on the morning of April 9, Mr. Stellhorn and Miss Rosa A. Weis, of St. Mary's, Pa., a cousin of E. J. Longfield, of this city, were quietly married by Rev. Keller, in Oakland, California.

All of this was done without the knowledge of the other members of the party, the announcement being made at a dinner given the same evening by Mr. Stellhorn in one of the leading hotels of Oakland to thirty of his friends. Then it was that he publicly announced his marriage to Miss Weis, with the request that his friends back home be kept in ignorance until their return, one week from next Sunday. But the secret was too good to keep and though somewhat belated, word of the marriage was finally received in Fort Wayne.

Mr. Stellhorn was scarcely acquainted with Miss Weis before leaving for the west. It was love at first sight. The train had not left the state when they were conversing together as though they had known each other for years. While members of the party were not blind to the fact that the bride had resulted in a love affair, little did they think that it would culminate in their marriage before their return to Fort Wayne.

Although Miss Weis' home is in St. Mary's, Ohio, she has spent the last two years in the home of her cousin, E. J. Longfield. Both have a host of friends here who wish them no end of happiness.

Members of the party with Mr. and Mrs. Stellhorn are: Miss Margaret Steiner, Mrs. Foellinger, sister of Mr. Stellhorn; Mrs. Mary E. Herbst, Mrs. A. H. Emrich, Miss Minnie LaFranz, of Chicago, and Miss Lizzie Bebeloh.

ROAD AGAIN GOES ON AUCTION BLOCK

Cleveland, Ohio, April 14.—The Wheeling and Lake Erie railroad now in the hands of a receiver, will again be offered for sale by the United States district court at 10 a. m. Friday at the road's depot.

The upset price is fixed at $18,500,000, but the purchasers would be required to assume additional obligations which would make the property cost about $25,000,000. It would require about $10,000,000 more to place the road in first class condition according to railroad men.

The road is 463 miles long and taps a rich coal field in southern Ohio and West Virginia. At the last attempt at a sale there were no bidders.

ASK ROBERTS TO QUIT JOB

Councilmen to Visit Jail to Request Resignation as Mayor.

GET PERMIT TO CALL ON CONVICTED MAN

Unless Bond is Furnished Before Sunday, Trip to Prison Begins.

Indianapolis, Ind., April 14.—John L. Cronin and George Ohm, members of the Terre Haute city council, today received a permit to call on Mayor Donn M. Roberts at the Marion county jail, where he is being held pending his attempts to give bond of $80,000 for his appeal from a sentence of six years in Leavenworth penitentiary and a fine of $2,000 in the Terre Haute election case.

The purpose of the visit, it was said, was to request the resignation of Roberts as mayor of Terre Haute, which, it was also said, had been determined upon at a caucus of the city council held in Terre Haute last night. The two had not visited the jail early this afternoon.

Still Seeking Bond. Meanwhile Roberts and eleven other Vigo county and city officials who were also sentenced to terms in the federal penitentiary for participation in the conspiracy continued their efforts to obtain bond pending their appeal.

Unless bond is furnished before Sunday the men probably will be taken to prison by United States Marshal Storen and his deputies. Sunday was the day fixed for the departure of the six prisoners who withdrew from the appeal and obtained permission to make the trip to Leavenworth unattended by guards.

Other prisoners who have withdrawn from the appeal are being held in jail here and will go to prison under guard.

SAYS NEW GAME OF CARDS COST $8,500

New York, April 14.—A man who described himself as Henry Lewis, a broker of Peoria, Ill., was held today in $5,000 bail for examination today on a charge of grand larceny made by Louis Holtzfurtner, of Milwaukee, who alleges that Lewis had swindled him out of $8,500 in a game of cards called "stock exchange." This Lewis denied.

According to Holtzfurtner Lewis took him to a gambling house here where Holtzfurtner won $35,000. Because Holtzfurtner had given his check instead of cash in buying his chips, his winnings were withheld. He returned to Milwaukee, he said, secured a check for $10,000 and cashed it when he came back to New York. With the cash he and Lewis, he charged, went again to the gambling house where he lost $8,500.

CONTRACT LABOR LAW VIOLATION CHARGED

Big Liner's Entire Corps of Stewards and Stewardesses Arrested.

New York, April 14.—Seventy-seven men and women, virtually the entire force of stewards and stewardesses aboard the American liner Kronland, were placed under arrest today by immigration officers and a warrant was served on the captain, charging the Red Star line, owners of the vessel, with violation of the alien contract labor law.

The entire complement of stewards and stewardesses—sixty-nine men and eight women—it was charged had been brought in as passengers aboard the liner Finland last January from England. After their arrival here it is charged the Red Star line transferred them, in accordance with a previous agreement to the Kronland, thus violating the law. Under the law the immigration officers asserted, the line had the privilege of transferring the crew of one ship to another but could not bring to America as passengers on board their ships for crew of another ship in America.

Although placed technically under arrest when the vessel arrived at quarantine today, the stewards and stewardesses were allowed to remain at work till the ship docked. The captain was notified, however, that the line would be subjected to a fine of $1,000 for each man or woman who should escape.

George W. Moore, the officer making the arrest, said the government planned to send the arrested men and women to Ellis Island temporarily and would deport most of them at once, leaving only a few behind as witnesses. Mr. Moore said that the employment of aliens, stewards and stewardesses was an object to many steamship lines because the rate of wages was about half that paid Americans.

DEMOCRATS IN LOVE FEAST ON APRIL 28

Indianapolis, Ind., April 14.—Bernard Korbly, state chairman of the democratic state committee, today announced that proposed love feast of the Indiana democrats will be held privately in Tomlinson hall Wednesday night, April 28, with Wm. C. Redfield, secretary of commerce, as the principal speaker.

The state chairman today received notice from Secretary Redfield that he would come to Indianapolis on that date and Chairman Korbly said the love feast therefore would be arranged for that time. Final arrangements for the meeting are to be made at a gathering here of democrats from all over the state next Saturday.

SUSPENDS RATE INCREASE.

Washington, April 14.—The interstate commerce commission today suspended until Aug. 13 increased rates on grain and grain products proposed by the Pennsylvania, B. & O. and other railroads. The rates would have become effective April 15.

SEA RAIDER NEEDS NEW BOILER TUBES

At Least Three Weeks Required to Repair German Cruiser.

Newport News, Va., April 14.—The German commerce raider Kronprinz Wilhelm, it was learned today, is in need of boiler tubes which cannot be supplied at this port and must be manufactured elsewhere. To procure them would require at least three weeks. Authorization to take the ship into dry dock has been given by Washington.

Three hundred additional tons of coal were allowed the cruiser today for port purposes and to trim the ship by lowering her bow. Experts report that she is taking so much water as to endanger her rudder and propellers. Rear Admiral Beatty, commander of the Norfolk navy yards, sent word today that the naval examining board probably will not inspect the Wilhelm until the navy department examined Captain Thierfelder's requests for repairs.

Then the navy department will fix the time limit of the vessel's stay at Newport News provided her commander does not elect to intern her as it is generally believed here he will.

The examining board in the Norfolk navy yard was due at any time to check up the outline of repairs necessary to make the ship seaworthy. The German commander did not complete his inquiry into the nationality of the members of the Wilhelm's crew last night, as requested by Collector Hamilton, but promised to ascertain today whether any naturalized Americans are aboard the ship. At least one American is believed to belong to the crew.

Details of the sinking of the British steamer Bollevue, one of the Wilhelm's victims, were related today by members of the crew, revealing that the British ship was held as a prize for sixteen days before she was sent to the bottom. The Bollevue was bound from Liverpool to South American ports with 4,000 tons of coal, 1,000 cases of whisky and some oxen when she was captured by the Wilhelm December 4 last. She was moored to the Wilhelm with a strong cable and stripped of everything of value, after her coal had been taken aboard.

When the French steamer Mont Agel was sighted the Bollevue was left in charge of a prize crew, while the Kronprinz Wilhelm gave chase and finally sank the Frenchman by ramming. Then, on December 20, after all movable parts were securely lashed down, in order that nothing might be left floating upon the surface to give the British cruisers a clue as to the Wilhelm's whereabouts, the Bollevue was sent to the bottom.

ENGLAND MAY ALLOW USE OF BEER ONLY

Hint in Parliament Forecasts Action on Drink Question.

London, April 14.—Parliament re-assembled today with a fair attendance. The first hour was devoted principally to questions concerning the war. Lewis Harcourt, secretary of state for the colonies, promised that the dominions would be consulted fully in regard to the terms of peace.

Harold J. Tennant, parliamentary under secretary of war, made the announcement that there had been 1,646 promotions to commissions from the ranks since the beginning of the war. He also gave what was regarded as a possible clue to the intentions of the government concerning the drink question. He said that beer was the only intoxicant now permitted in the canteens and that it was not the intention of the authorities to prohibit its sale.

Announcing in the house of commons that the British foreign office had requested the American ambassador in London, Walter H. Page, to telegraph to the American ambassador in Berlin, James W. Gerard, to find out what truth there was in the reported German reprisals, Col. Primrose, parliamentary under secretary for foreign affairs, added: "If this report be true we can only hope that these prisoners are being treated as well as are those captured by submarines in this country."

Premier Asquith announced the house would only sit for three days' work. He also stated in reply to a suggestion that the members ought to follow the lead of King George and abstain from the use of alcohol, that the suppression of alcoholic liquors at the palace of Westminster was a matter for the public and not the government to decide.

The British government has decided against placing cotton on the contraband list. A question was asked in the house of commons this afternoon on the subject and Neil Primrose, under secretary of foreign affairs, on behalf of the foreign office replied that after a careful consideration it had been found that the military advantages to be gained by declaring cotton contraband were insufficient to render such a step expedient.

KEEP A BLACK LIST, HE SAYS

News Service Operator Accuses Commercial Telegraph Companies.

AVAILABLE TO THE RAILROADS, ALSO

Declares Wire Companies Drive Many Operators from Country.

Chicago, April 14.—C. P. McBreath, a telegrapher employed by the International News service at Detroit, testified today before the United States commission on industrial relations that the commercial telegraph companies maintain a black list.

"I am on it because I am a union man," he said, and he added that he was sure the list was interchangeable between the Western Union and the Postal Telegraph companies. He said the list was available to the railroad companies.

"Many men have been driven from the country in this way," said the witness, "while others have obtained work by using an alias. These latter, however, are usually discovered in time."

"Do blacklisted men ever obtain reinstatement?" asked Frank P. Walsh, chairman of the commission.

"Yes, by surrendering their manhood—by surrendering their union cards," replied McBreath.

Replies to Brooks. S. J. Koenekamp, president of the Commercial Telegraphers' union of America, was recalled for a few minutes to reply to a phase of the testimony of Vice President Brooks, of the Western Union Telegraph company, and Edward C. Reynolds, general manager of the Postal Telegraph company.

The strike of 1907, Koenekamp said, was not brought by the officers of the union on the heels of an agreement made through C. P. Neill, then commissioner of labor, but was forced by the rank and file of the union.

"The men in San Francisco did walk out the day after the agreement was reached, but they did not know of the truce and officers of the union forced them to return to work," said the witness. "The union officials were harshly criticized by the men for their conciliatory attitude. There was wrong on both sides, but the companies had ample warning of unrest among the men."

Commissioner Ashton asked if every effort was made to inform the men of the Neill agreement.

Wanted to "Save His Face." "No, R. C. Clowry, then general manager of the Western Union, wanted to 'save his face,' and I was asked to give the agreement as little publicity as possible," replied Mr. Koenekamp.

T. W. Carroll, superintendent of traffic of the Western division of the Western Union Telegraph company, was the SUPPOSED DEAD DOG IS HEAD OF MISSING MAN.

Lafayette, Ind., April 14.—A number of small boys spent a half hour here this morning throwing rocks at what they thought was the body of a dead dog in the Wabash river before they discovered it to be the head of Charles Davis, who disappeared from his home in this city ten days ago. The body was standing erect in about six feet of water. Davis was a carpenter and was mentally unsound.

FLEET AGAIN FIRES ON TURK BATTERIES

London, April 14.—After a prolonged lull in the operations at the Dardanelles, fighting has been resumed on a small scale. An official report from Constantinople says the batteries at the entrance to the straits were bombarded yesterday and that a cruiser and destroyer were struck by the Turkish fire.

Messages from Vienna to Rome quote an American official as saying that a state of siege probably will be proclaimed in Austria, on account of popular unrest occasioned by the advance of the Russians through the Carpathians.

It is reported also that Emperor Francis Joseph has decided to make the territorial concessions desired by Italy provided that nation will take up arms for Austria and Germany. This report, however, is not generally credited in Rome.

The Austrian announcement that the Russians have been checked in the Carpathians is disputed at Petrograd where it is said that further advances have been made. Czech press apparently is the key to the situation and on account of the strong forces of Austrians and Germans massed in this district the Russians have been unable to force their way through.

The last Russian official report, however, announced the capture of three villages and 2,700 prisoners in the fighting near the pass.

The British parliament meets today for consideration of some of the important collateral issues presented by the war. It is expected the liquor problem will be discussed and the government may announce its decision in favor of a measure to enforce temperance or prohibition. An announcement also is expected concerning the government's plan for utilizing the nation's resources for the manufacture of war munitions.

MORE CONCLUDE TO ABANDON A FIGHT

Other Terre Haute Men to Accept Prison Terms Without Appeal.

Indianapolis, Ind., April 14.—Despairing of giving bond for an appeal, four more of the men sentenced Monday to the federal penitentiary at Leavenworth, Kansas, by Judge Anderson, following their conviction in the Terre Haute election fraud cases, withdrew from the appeal late yesterday. Four stopped proceedings for an appeal in their behalf yesterday, leaving twelve who are still seeking appeal bonds.

In addition to Maurice Walsh, treasurer of the democratic county committee and county sealer of weights and measures, who shortly after noon decided not to contest the judgment further, the others who withdrew from the appeal are: Thomas Smith, city judge; Edward Driscoll, assistant city engineer and secretary of the democratic county committee; and Joseph O'Mara, street superintendent. O'Mara, who had been sentenced to Leavenworth prison for a year and a day and fined $100, was permitted to return to Terre Haute, after his fine had been reduced to $1, which was paid. Judge Anderson granted O'Mara's request to go to prison unattended and he will join Walsh and the four released yesterday on the trip, which must be started by noon next Sunday.

Driscoll and Smith, each of whom received sentences of three years and fines of $500, were ordered back to the Marion county jail after they had informed the court that they would not prosecute the appeal. Smith will be permitted to go to Terre Haute Thursday under a guard, to arrange his business affairs. He will be brought back to Indianapolis with Driscoll and others, who may withdraw from the appeal or fail to give bond, will be taken to prison in a body.

This means that Mayor Donn M. Roberts, who was termed the "arch conspirator" by Judge Anderson, and who received the heaviest sentence of all—six years imprisonment and a fine of $2,000—will have at least two more days in which to further his efforts to obtain his appeal bond of $60,000.

Three of those who received sentences to the jail here have been released. William Doyle, Dan Alban and Nick Burson, who were sentenced to one day in jail and to pay fines of $100 each, served their time, paid their fines and have returned to their homes in Terre Haute. Alban and Burson pleaded guilty, but Doyle stood trial.

USES THE MOVIES TO TEACH FOOTBALL

Coach at Indiana University Springs a Brand New Innovation.

Bloomington, Ind., April 14.—When spring foot ball practice was begun here today Coach Childs sprung a brand new innovation in the matter of teaching players the science of the game. By the use of motion pictures of games played last year he is pointing out to his men the different styles of attack and defense used by the bigger elevens. He will continue this form of instruction for the next ten days before leading his men on the gridiron for scrimmage practice. With prospects bright for a winning team next fall, citizens of this city, as well as students of the university, are showing a keen interest in the spring work and the use of one of the local moving picture playhouses was dictated by its owner.

Coach Childs is following out his methods of strict secrecy in practice and has a big canvas top covering placed over the track oval in which practice will be held. Practice will be held at night, although the big coach will put in a good part of his day with individual players.

WAR RISK INSURANCE PAYS ITS FIRST LOSS

Washington, April 14.—The government war risk insurance bureau paid its first claim yesterday for losses due to the European war. A treasury warrant for $401,000 was drawn in favor of Harris-Irby and Vose, of New York, owners of the American steamer Evelyn, sunk off the coast of Holland, supposedly by a mine, February 20.

The Evelyn was the first American boat lost during the war. On the amount paid $301,000 was for her cargo of cotton, and $100,000 for her hull. Necessary proof of loss reached the treasury department April 1.

The bureau to date has earned premiums amounting to $1,453,000 out of a total of premiums paid up to April 7, amounting to $1,733,000. The government is expected to salvage some of the Evelyn's cargo and thereby reduce its net loss.

DRUG ADDICTS FEAR INSANITY; ASK AID

New York, April 14.—As a result of the enforcement of the new law against traffic in habit-forming drugs here, ten young men who said they feared they would become insane because they could not obtain drugs to the use of which they were addicted, were under treatment in Bellevue hospital today. They were sent there by a magistrate after they had applied for admission to another hospital. Scores of others applied for admission to various hospitals last night. Some of them were so faint they could hardly walk.

One young man who had been unable to obtain a drug from sources where he formerly purchased it, fell dead in the street last night from the effects of a narcotic pill sold him by an Italian dealer.

REAL NAME OF MAN SWOBODA IS SCHWIND

Prisoner on Trial Freely Answers Questions as to Identity.

Paris, April 14.—The real name of the man known as Raymond Swoboda, now on trial before a court martial on charges of arson and espionage, is Raymond Schwind, it was developed at the hearing yesterday according to the Journal.

The prisoner, whose arrest resulted from the investigation into the fire aboard the steamship La Touraine, answered without hesitation questions asked by Captain Julian in an effort to establish his identity. This was the most important point brought out in the examination. Schwind, declaring the charges against him baseless, complained of the slow progress made in the investigation and appeared disappointed because his lawyer was not permitted to be present during the inquiry.

Schwind obtained an American passport by subterfuge according to the Figaro. Knowing that the municipal records of San Francisco were destroyed in the great fire he is said to have informed the embassy that he was born in that city. Since it was impossible to obtain proof of this statement the embassy accepted his word and issued the passport. The paper says his conduct aroused suspicion and he was under surveillance in Paris and New York. A London business man is quoted as asserting that he recognizes in Schwind a man once employed by him as a German clerk who said he was born in Bremen and that his father was a German fiscal official.

TWO DIVISION PLAN IS BEING INSPECTED

System Inaugurated by Postmaster Hanna Regarded as Success.

For the purpose of determining the success of the two division plan in the Fort Wayne postoffice a thorough inspection is being made by Postoffice Inspectors W. B. Platt, of Fort Wayne, and John Hunter, of South Bend.

Upon his own initiative and with a view of improving the system of the local office Postmaster Robert B. Hanna inaugurated what is known as the two division plan, which divides the office into two divisions, the finance and mailing. Since its inauguration here there has been no inspection and that is what Messrs. Platt and Hunter are now doing. Under the old system there were five divisions, the executive, mailing, city delivery, registry and money order.

The two division system is regarded much more satisfactory and efficient. A thorough inspection of the office is being made by the two inspectors, which is done about once a year. Under the direction of Postmaster Hanna the Fort Wayne postoffice has been transformed into one of the best managed and most systematically conducted of offices in the country.

SCHOOLS TO OBSERVE ARBOR DAY FRIDAY

In compliance with a proclamation issued by Governor Samuel M. Haislip, arbor day will be observed in many of the schools in Allen county Friday.

In a circular issued by Charles A. Grechowski, superintendent of the state department of public instruction, and directed to the teachers and children in the schools of Indiana, he says:

"Children and patrons are greatly interested when the schools of their locality appropriately observe that movement and young and old are assembled together to repeat the same sentiment or sing the same song. A bond of relationship through co-operation in a common interest is formed that goes far beyond the immediate purpose, and creates a state loyalty and pride that not only powerfully influence the activities of the present generation but fill the generation with incentives that make for substantial and superior citizenship."

USING CONVICTS ON WORK.

Monroeville, W. Va., April 14.—A force of convicts from the state penitentiary today began the task of restoring the historic mound, one of the largest works of the mound builders in the Ohio valley. The mound has been taken over by the state and will be converted into a park. A movement is on foot to erect on the summit a monument to the memory of Captain Foreman, who with twenty-five others, was massacred by Indians in 1787 a short distance from the mound.

Fifty Years Ago Tonight Abraham Lincoln Was Assassinated

Man Who Heard the Shot; Who Saw the President Fall; Who Saw the Assassin Trip on the American Flag—This Man Tells the Story of John Wilkes Booth's Death.

LINCOLN ASSASSINATED—SKETCHED FROM LIEUTENANT JONES' STORY.

When John Wilkes Booth sprang from the president's box in Ford's theater, April 14, 1865, and challenged the world with his dramatic cry, "The south is avenged," only one man in the audience seemed to feel the shock of the world-tragedy.

For several seconds after the bullet carried its death blow to Lincoln's brain the audience seemed paralyzed with fright.

But from the topmost gallery a young man leaped to the balcony rail below and swung into the president's box just in time to see an incident that seems to have escaped everyone else on the stage and in the theater.

Lieutenant Charles H. Jones, then connected with the quartermaster's department at Washington, is the man who sprang from the gallery in time to hear a man on the stage announce, "The assassin is captured!" and thus prevent immediate pursuit of Booth.

This is Lieutenant Jones' story of Lincoln's assassination:

"It was the third act of the play, 'Our American Cousin.' I heard the shot in the president's box; I saw Lincoln's head fall forward—a man sprang from the box, tripped on the American flag that curtained it, and stumbled to the stage fourteen feet below.

"As he arose to his feet he cried, 'The south is avenged!'

"Not half a dozen people in the theater realized they were witnessing a great tragedy, but I seemed to divine what had happened. I leaped over the gallery and balcony rails, swung into the president's box just in time to see Major Rathbone remove his hands from the president's head. They were covered with blood. I knew then the emancipator was dying.

"Histories have been written about Lincoln's assassination, but all of the histories omit one important thing—a thing that I saw and no man can contradict my statement in regard to this—

"As soon as Booth disappeared from the stage a man in evening clothes announced 'He has been captured!' and turned back the people who were pursuing the assassin.

"One man had followed Booth when he rushed from the stage, but he was outwitted when Booth shut the stage door in his face. The audience seemed stunned; for a few seconds there was no pursuit; then several army officers sprang upon the stage, but they were turned back by the mysterious man in evening clothes, supposed then to be an attaché of the theater when he announced, 'He has been captured.'

"Who was that man?"

"Why was he on the stage?"

"Why did he delay pursuit of the assassin with a lie?"

"These things have never been accounted for. In fact I never heard about the man during the excitement that followed the tragedy, and none of the histories of the assassination refer to him.

"I remained only a few minutes in the Lincoln box, but before I left Laura Keane had reached the dying president. Her beautiful white silk gown was soon vivid with the blood of the martyr whose head she held in her arms.

"One actor assassinated Lincoln. Another actor ministered to him as he died."

NEWS OF FORT WAYNE'S NEIGHBORS

IS TRAPPING IN CANADA.

Bluffton, Ind., April 14.—Mrs. John McDaniel today received a letter from her son, Vay Miller, who has been engaged in trapping during the past winter in the far northern part of Canada. The letter was sent out to civilization by another trapper and Vay says that he will remain for another four or five weeks at his trapping grounds along the Smoky river, 100 miles up the river from Bluffton, the nearest postoffice. It was the first letter and the first word his mother had received from him in seven months. He says that up to the time of writing he had killed 31 martins, 18 lynxes, 15 weasels, 3 mink, 1 wolverine and 1 silver fox in the line of fur-bearing animals, and besides, for his larder, had killed two caribou, three sheep and one moose.

TO DEDICATE NEW SCHOOL.

Huntington, Ind., April 14.—A dedication service will be held Sunday, May 2, for the new school additions of the German Lutheran parochial school. It is planned to have representatives of Lutheran churches in Fort Wayne, Peru and other Wabash valley towns present on the occasion. Just now experts are installing a new bowling alley in the basement of the enlarged building. This alley is one of the finest, and will be much in demand among the younger men of the church. The meeting will be an all-day affair, and dinner will be served in the school hall. It is expected that each family will bring dinner, and everybody will gather in the hall to eat.

ENTIRE LIFE IN ADAMS COUNTY.

Decatur, Ind., April 14.—Suddenly and wholly unexpectedly, Mrs. Abraham Railing, one of the oldest and best known women in Decatur, passed away at the family home on Market street, at the age of 73. Mrs. Railing had not been in good health during the winter, but Monday she was feeling better than usual. She and her aged husband were at the home together, and Mr. Railing having some errand, left the house for a moment, and when he returned she was in a dying condition and almost instantly she breathed her last. Mrs. Railing was a daughter of Samuel and Rachel Guessinger, and was born in Root township, June 30, 1841. Her entire life was spent in Adams county.

HUNTINGTON CLEAN-UP WEEK.

Huntington, Ind., April 14.—"Clean up" week will be observed in Huntington the first week in May. This announcement was made by Mayor P. M. McCarty last night, after he had conferred with the board of public works and Street Commissioner Ed Smith as to the date for the annual clean up crusade. "Clean up" week has been a yearly affair in Huntington for several years. It is the week when all the winter's accumulation of rubbish and refuse is gathered from the dark corners and piled out for the street department to cart away. The city is given a new dress that week with which to greet the spring and summer months.

WEDS AND SURPRISES FRIENDS.

Van Wert, O., April 14.—Andrew S. Durr, seventy-two, city clerk of Van Wert, and Sarah E. Ochs, fifty-one, of Lima, were married in Lima and the news was kept from Mr. Durr's friends there until notice of the marriage license was published in Lima newspapers. Mr. Durr is one of Van Wert's leading residents, is highly respected wherever he is known, is an enthusiastic member of the G. A. R., one of the oldest members of the Royal Arcanum, and has filled the responsible position of city treasurer for several years. His bride is highly esteemed in the circles in which she has moved in Lima and possesses a host of friends.

WALKS 40 MILES TO PAY TAXES.

Huntington, Ind., April 14.—William Foust, of near Warren, who has walked twenty miles to Huntington every spring to pay his tax and then walked twenty miles back to his home, made his last trip of that kind Tuesday. At least so he announced to Fred Swain, deputy treasurer, when he paid his tax. Mr. Foust has made a yearly pilgrimage to Huntington for several years to pay his tax on the small home where he lives.

To Put On Flesh And Increase Weight

A Physician's Advice.

Most thin people eat from four to six pounds of good, solid, fat making food every day, and still do not increase in weight one ounce, while on the other hand many of the plump, chunky folks eat very lightly and keep gaining all the time. It's all a matter of what they eat, the nature of the individual. It isn't nature's way at all.

Thin folks stay thin because their powers of assimilation are defective. They absorb just enough of the food they eat to maintain life and a semblance of health and strength. Stuffing won't help them. A dozen meals a day won't make them gain a single "stay there" pound. All the fat-producing elements of their food just stay in the intestines until they pass from the body as waste. What such people need is something that will prepare those fatty food elements so that their blood can absorb them and deposit them all about the body—something, too, that will multiply their red blood corpuscles and increase their blood's carrying power.

For such a condition I always recommend eating a Sargol tablet with every meal. Sargol is not, as some believe, a patented drug, but is a scientific combination of six of the most effective and powerful flesh building elements known to chemistry. It is absolutely harmless, yet wonderfully effective, and a single tablet eaten with each meal often has the effect of increasing the weight of a thin man or woman from three to five pounds a week. Sargol is sold by Meyer Bros. Drug Co., Oster Drug Co., D. & N. Pharmacy, and other good druggists everywhere on a positive guarantee of weight increase or money back.

He travels the entire distance, amounting to about forty miles, on foot. His tax amounted to ninety-nine cents for the entire year.

Decatur, Ind., April 14.—Rev. W. T. A physician was at once called and cared for Mr. Myers. He was then brought to his home in the city and placed in the care of a Decatur physician, who found him suffering from a compressed fracture of the hip.

Hoover was taken back to jail and will be held there probably until the September term of court to await another trial unless he can furnish the required bond of $500.

A FINE TREATMENT FOR CATARRH

EASY TO MAKE AND COSTS LITTLE

If you have catarrh don't be misled or gulled into believing you can obtain a cure for your trouble by breathing a simple medicated air.

Catarrh is a constitutional disease and inhalers, sprays and nose douches merely temporizing with the disease and seldom, if ever, bring any lasting benefit. To effect a cure use a remedy that will drive the disease out of your system. Don't employ a remedy that will drive the disease down into your lungs and bronchial tubes. Such methods often lead to consumption, and frequently produce catarrhal deafness and head noises.

If you have catarrh in any form go to your druggist and get one ounce of Parment (Poudre Strengthening), take this home and add to it 12 pint of hot water and 1 ounce of granulated sugar, stir until dissolved. Take a tablespoonful four times a day.

The first dose should begin to relieve the most miserable headache, dullness, sneezing, sore throat, running of the nose, catarrhal discharges, head noises and other loathsome symptoms that always accompany this disgusting disease.

Loss of smell, defective hearing and mucus dripping in the back of the throat are other symptoms that show the presence of catarrh and which may be overcome by the use of this simple treatment. Every person who has catarrh should give this prescription a trial. There is nothing better.

ENGLAND WANTS "BILLY."

Evangelist Sunday May Be Asked to Aid Anti-Booze Crusade There.

New York, April 14.—Billy Sunday is to be asked to go to England to wage a prohibition campaign among the workmen of that country, according to the Tribune. A request for Sunday's address, it says, has been made of its London correspondent by Sir Henry Edward Randall, director of the business men's campaign for prohibition in England, so that a cable message might be forwarded to Sunday asking him to engage in a revival tour of England for the purpose of battling against liquor.

Sir Henry is quoted as saying he hoped Sunday could make arrangements to close his present campaign at a reasonably early date so that he might come to England.

Should Not Feel Discouraged. So many people troubled with indigestion and constipation have been benefited by taking Chamberlain's Tablets that no one should feel discouraged who has not given them a trial. They contain no poison or other digestive ferments, but strengthen the stomach and enable it to perform its functions naturally. Obtainable everywhere.—Adv.

Proverbs 1:1-16.

1 The proverbs of Solomon the son of David, king of Israel;
2 To know wisdom and instruction; to perceive the words of understanding;
3 To receive the instruction of wisdom, justice, and judgment, and equity;
4 To give subtility to the simple, to the young man knowledge and discretion.
5 A wise man will hear, and will increase learning; and a man of understanding shall attain unto wise counsels;
6 To understand a proverb, and the interpretation; the words of the wise, and their dark sayings.
7 The fear of the Lord is the beginning of knowledge; but fools despise wisdom and instruction.
8 My son, hear the instruction of thy father, and forsake not the law of thy mother.
9 For they shall be an ornament of grace unto thy head, and chains about thy neck.
10 My son, if sinners entice thee, consent thy not.
11 If they say, Come with us, let us lay wait for blood, let us lurk
privily for the innocent without cause;
12 Let us swallow them up alive as the grave; and whole, as those that go down into the pit;
13 We shall find all precious substance, we shall fill our houses with spoils;
14 Cast in thy lot among us; let us all have one purse;
15 My son, walk not thou in the way with them; refrain thy foot from their path;
16 For their feet run to evil, and make haste to shed blood.

Fire Department Motorization.

The suggestion of President Rayer, of the city council, that the track elevation tax levy be cut in half and a levy equivalent to the saving be created to provide for motor driven vehicles to replace the horse-drawn apparatus in the Fort Wayne fire department, has much to commend it. Mr. Rayer's idea was advanced in the discussion following an address by Mr. Charles B. Fitch, who urged that the change be made and that it be financed by an issue of city bonds.

Bond issues, often useful and occasionally offering the only prospect of securing immediate action for needed improvements, are not in general favor with tax-payers when any other system of financing a public proposition is practicable. There are times when nothing else will suffice as a money-raiser, particularly when it is imperative that the lump sum be available without delay, and the tax-payer is willing to accept the protracted term of interest-paying with some degree of toleration, if not of cheerful acquiescence. If there is any other way out, however, he prefers to take it.

The motorization of the fire department is necessary and it is important. As pointed out by Mr. Fitch, a saving of some $30,000 a year in operation of the fire department and a saving of $20,000 a year in decreased fire insurance rates through the use of motor driven fire-fighting apparatus, and the construction of an independent high pressure water system in the business district is a consummation devoutly to be wished. It is an investment, rather than an expense, and it is one of the investments Fort Wayne should make without delay. Fire-fighting methods and equipment must follow other advances or soon be hopelessly inadequate to cope with conditions imposed by the new order of things in other lines of activity. It must give a steadily improved grade of public service.

It is believed the sum now in the track elevation fund is sufficient to care for the city's share of grade separation work immediately in prospect, and that the levy might safely be lowered on this item and applied to fire department motorization. It is true this would necessitate a gradual change that would not at once give the city the benefit of a completely motorized department such as the bond issue would provide. Some years would be needed to effect the complete transformation, but we would at least be making steady progress toward a much-desired end. Splendid results of grade separation already accomplished make it evident that there must be no unnecessary delay in carrying forward this work, but if the motor vehicles for the fire department can be provided at the same time without increasing immediate financial burdens, that course will appeal to a vast majority of people as a wise one to pursue.

President Wilson has given authoritative denials to the flood of rumors indicating that he had been advised of the general basis on which belligerent European nations would be willing to enter into tentative negotiations looking to peace. It is apparent that these rumors have been inspired by hope rather than by any basis of fact. It may be taken for granted, however, that America will be ready on the instant to exercise its good offices in placating the warring foes as quickly as there is the slightest prospect of success. There will be no overlooking an opportunity of this sort, from whatever source it may come.

Arraigned in police court at South Bend, an eminent advocate of the theory of heaven-born personal rights asserted his contentions that every citizen is entitled to consume a certain amount of intoxicating liquor every day; that a man should lend, not give, money to his wife; that money changing hands in this fashion should be paid back, and that, anyway, courts and lawyers were not legitimate mediums with which to decide domestic difficulties. Doubtless he will be able to add a few additional planks to his platform during the mediation that will attend the eleven days he is serving in jail.

Congressman Stanley, of Kentucky, who represented some of the Terre Haute defendants in court, hastens to make it clear that he was in the case merely as a lawyer, and declares that he "would not go through this thing again for a king's ransom." Despite his impassioned pleas for his clients, the public all along has had a suspicion that Mr. Stanley felt just about that way about it.

The Wisconsin supreme court has just held that the corrupt practices law in that state is constitutional. While it approached the matter from another angle, the general tenor of the federal court's finding in the Terre Haute cases seems to have supplied an intimation that about the same thing is true with reference to the corrupt practices act on the Indiana statute books.

INDUCEMENT TO SOBRIETY.

The insurance companies are beginning to recognize one of the important deductions from their statistical inquiries. One of them, it is announced, is about to write special insurance policies against accidents and ill health for persons who abstain from the use of intoxicating liquors. An advantage in rates is to be given to those who abstain from intoxicants. This is stated to be the first concession of the kind made in insurance history.

Yet this is the natural deduction from the long line of mortality tables on which tables of insurance rates were based. The first mortality lists included all sorts of lives, people affected with disease, drinkers and every other class. As the insurance risks excluded people with material disease, the insurance experience of actual mortality was much better than shown by the old mortality tables. Six years ago forty-three of the principal life insurance companies agreed to compile the results of their experience in the great variety of risks. The records of over 2,000,000 lives were studied, the inquiry extending over about four years of continuous work. It was by this inquiry settled beyond doubt, that total abstainers live longer than people who use strong drink. Heavy drinkers are the worst class, but moderate drinkers are shorter lived than the total abstainers.

Of course, if the total abstainers are the longest lived it requires a lower rate to make up the reserve to meet their policies at the end of the average expectation of life. And men who keep sober are less likely to sustain serious accidents or undergo dangerous illness than drinkers. The result makes it profitable for insurance companies to offer lower premiums to those who practice total abstinence than to those who do not. One company has put that conclusion into actual practice. Others, no doubt, will follow the example.

A RECIPE FOR A LONG LIFE.

(Kansas City Star.)

John Burroughs, naturalist, optimist and author, passed his seventy-eighth birthday last week, and gave to a reporter for the New York Tribune the secret of how to live long and happily. "Be prudent and temperate in youth, avoid stimulants and excesses of all kinds, work a little, be cheerful always, be sympathetic, live in the country and in the fresh air, eat good fresh food and sleep enough."

That's the recipe. He has lived forty years in a log house he built with his own hands. It is in the woods on the banks of the Hudson. He said to the reporter: "You city people rush and run and toil hard enough, but it's all at the expense of the later years of life. You haven't the fresh air and food. The noise and speed are distracting to the nerves, and your geniuses never live as long as they might. Up here in the mountains, where there are plenty of birds and other of nature's creatures, I can do my work without interruption. I take care of my health and I feel as young as I did years ago. All my writing is done in the forenoon, as I walk and rest in the latter part of the day. I use my automobile to go to places which I would not otherwise visit, but I walk a great deal."

On his seventy-eighth birthday he cleaned out his furnace, chopped a pile of cordwood, raked the yard, did the chores, walked a mile and a half to visit his grandchildren, and gave one of them this advice: "Be simple, calm and composed, be outdoors all you can and sleep eight hours every night."

OPPOSE SECOND-CLASS CITY.

Gary Socialists Say It Would Mean Increased Taxes.

Gary, Ind., April 14.—The English and South Slavic organizations of the socialist party here have passed resolutions opposing Gary's being made into a city of the second class, an election for which purpose will be held April 20. A public mass meeting is to be held in Turner hall Wednesday night, and Sunday there will be a big meeting of Balkan residents at the Macedonian coffee house. In urging that the election be not carried, the socialists say Gary's advancement to a city of the second class would cause increased taxes and would benefit the steel corporation to the detriment of the south side residents.

HANK EVENS UP WITH DUCK-KILLING FISH

Doesn't Need Hook and Line When He Goes Fishing With "Grab."

Benzonia, Mich., April 14.—Hank Meyers and family, including Grab, his pet hawk, are living high on fish these days. Grab has developed into the best fisherman on the lake. Folks living near Platt lake have been bothered for years by the pickering eating their ducks. Every time the ducks went for a swim on Platt lake the pickering either bit their legs off or pulled them under the water and drowned them. Hank vowed vengeance. Last summer he shot a young hawk, wounding it. He carried it home and tried to tame it. He succeeded in part, but the hawk seized everyone and every animal that came near him excepting Hank. It can't fly because a wing is crippled, but he certainly can fasten his talons into a dog and hang on—hence his name, Grab. This spring Hank had an idea. He kept feeding fish to Grab who became very fond of them. Then he got two of those long rubber squeakers the kids use, blew them up, tied them so the air could not escape, fastened them under Grab's wings and rowed out onto Platt lake. He dropped Grab into the water. The hawk didn't like it at first, but pretty soon found the bladders held him up and went floating around. Along came a five-pound pickering and made a snatch at Grab's legs. He probably was the most surprised fish in the world. Grab got him right by the jaw and hung on until Hank lifted the pickering into the boat. Now Grab, enjoys it, and Hank says the hawk stands on his window sill and screams at him every morning and won't keep quiet until the bladders are fastened under his wings so he can go fishing.

WORLD'S RECORD IS MADE BY ART SMITH

"Aerial Insanity" Makes Big Crowd Pale at Exposition.

Art Smith, the Fort Wayne aviator, has made a new record, which now puts him in a class by himself. Flying near the spot where Lincoln Beachey fell to death at the Panama-Pacific exposition at San Francisco a few weeks ago, Smith looped the loop twenty-one times, breaking the world's record. In telling of this wonderful feat a San Francisco paper says:

"There was no enthusiasm when Smith started. The crowd watched anxiously and it was relieved to see Smith get safely away. He waved his arms in the manner of the late Lincoln Beachey as he swept low over the crowd and went on straight up into the sun. Three times he circled over the exposition until he had reached an altitude of almost 5,000 feet. And then just as the crowd had made up its mind that he was determined to fly safe without any fancy work Smith began to loop. Twenty-one times he swung around in the loop, each loop not more than a circle of 160 feet and every one pointed on the sky by a pencil of gray smoke. Beachey had never done more than seven loops."

Indianapolis, Ind., April 14.—Governor Samuel M. Ralston announced last night the appointment of Jesse W. Weik, of Greencastle, and Joseph M. Cravens, of Madison, to be members of a commission provided for by the 1915 general assembly, to locate the trail followed by the parents of Abraham Lincoln in removing from Spencer county, Indiana, to Illinois. A similar commission is to be named in Illinois.

The commissioners will hold meetings and call in witnesses in an effort to establish the road followed by the Lincolns. The commissioners are to serve without pay, though they are entitled to receive their expenses.

Other appointments made by the governor follow:

Elta E. Houk, of Ossian; Mrs. Jacob P. Dunn, of Indianapolis; Mrs. Fannie McKee, of Indianapolis; and Mrs. Alice Wilke Poynter, of Sullivan, were appointed trustees of the woman's prison.

QUEST CLUB PLANS FOR BIG BANQUET

Five Members of Board of Governors to Be Elected Thursday.

On the theory that "all work and no play makes Jack a dull boy," members of the Quest club are going to play a little at their last meeting for the season to be held at the Anthony hotel Thursday evening, at 6:30 o'clock.

The members are to be free from all sordid business thoughts and cares and are going to bask in the sunshine of wit and merriment and roll in the luxury of complete relaxation and comfort.

The members are requested to wear their business suits with not more than five inches of shirt front exposure.

Immediately after convening a few minutes will be devoted to the matter of electing in open meeting five new members for the board of governors. The members are elected for two years to succeed the following, who retire: G. H. VanArman, B. Paul Mossman, D. A. Corey, W. H. Scheiman and F. J. Thleme.

Six members of the present board remain in office for another year. They are as follows: H. Brooke Sale, W. E. Doud, Robert Koerber, C. A. Meigs, H. P. Fletcher and C. J. Schoo.

These with the five new members will constitute the board for the season 1915-1916.

As soon as this business is completed the entertainment committee appointed especially for this meeting will take full charge and from that time on there will be, in the language of the poets, "something doing, believe me." There are to be no guests.

CANAL REPORT WILL SOON BE COMPLETED

With the report of Captain L. H. Watkins for the proposed Toledo, Fort Wayne and Chicago barge canal practically completed, the four engineers who have been assisting in the final wind-up of the survey will probably quit work Saturday. They are Albert Krueger, A. W. Green, L. G. Thomas and H. S. Sack-nus.

Captain Watkins stated Wednesday morning that he expected to have his report entirely completed by the end of the week and ready for the members of the army board when they come next week. The board will meet Captain Watkins and go over the report in detail, but it is not expected that any action will be taken at that time.

The members of the army board are Colonel John Mills, Colonel W. V. Judson and Major P. S. Bond. Captain Watkins does not expect to close his office before the first of May.

Mrs. C. Henry, wife of the county agriculturist, has gone to Hebron, Ohio, to spend a few days with her parents.

After the show high-class dancing at the Anthony Hotel tonight. 12-14

A six-mile tunnel which will be bored through mountains near Denver, Col., will shorten a railroad twenty-three miles and reduce its elevation from 11,000 feet to 2,900 feet.

OLD LIBERTY BELL MAY TAKE JOURNEY

Fight is Made to Permit Relic to Be Shown at San Francisco.

Philadelphia, Pa., April 14.—A determined effort will be made at tomorrow's meeting of city councils to secure the passage of an ordinance permitting the removal of the historic liberty bell from its shrine in Independence hall to the Pennsylvania building at the San Francisco exposition where it will be exhibited until the close of the fair. Mayor Blankenburg and leaders in councils favor the movement and are willing to see the necessary money appropriated for the expenses of the trip.

Henceforth the proposition has been opposed mainly by patriotic orders and by bodies of women who fear that the precious relic might be destroyed in a railroad wreck or some other accident. Now those favoring the exhibition of the bell in the far western city have secured the support of Admiral Dewey and Gen. Miles and the influence of these distinguished officers having been felt so strongly that there is little doubt that the bell will be permitted to go away, properly guarded by Philadelphia police-men.

Dewey and Miles argued that by reason of conditions in Europe this is a good time to stir up patriotic sentiment among the people of this country and that nothing would have greater influence in this direction than a trip across the continent of the bell which proclaimed liberty throughout the land 139 years ago.

FOUR ARE INDICTED.

New Charges Outcome of Miss Tanzer's Accusation of Obscene.

New York, April 14.—Rae Tanzer, Maxwell and David Slade, of the law firm of Slade & Slade, her attorneys in the breach of promise suit she brought against James W. Osborne, former district attorney of New York county, and Albert J. McCullough, a detective employed by Slades, were indicted yesterday by the federal grand jury, which has been investigating circumstances surrounding the filing of the suit. Miss Tanzer is charged with using the mails in an attempt to defraud, while the Slades and McCullough are charged with conspiracy.

Walter Seaver, who has been ill for about a week with pneumonia at his home, Oak Knoll, was removed to the Hope hospital Tuesday afternoon.

DELINQUENTS MUST PAY FOR NEGLIGENCE

Men Who Drove Cars That Had No Tags Fined in City Court.

Judge Kerr in the city court is sticking close to his rule laid down last week that men who drive cars on which the 1915 license tags are not displayed must pay a fine of $10 and costs. Two were mulcted in court Wednesday morning. D. O. Christofor, of Van Wert, Ohio, was caught and pleaded guilty. He promptly settled and made no protest. J. Jerome Bobilya, employed in a garage, hopped into a machine and slipped down to the business center for his lunch Tuesday noon and was arrested because his car bore no numbers. In court he pleaded in extenuation that the car had been equipped with the garage tags but a few minutes before he started out and he did not know that another employee had removed them to another car that was wanted. Judge Kerr said he could make no exceptions and assessed a fine of $10 and costs. Bobilya filed an appeal bond and the matter will be determined in the circuit court.

Saloon Brawlers in Court.

Leo Baker and George Doeble were arraigned on charges of assault and battery on George H. Gerke, of 836 Eliza street. The arrests grew out of a brawl in the Kammer saloon in the east end, Monday night. Gerke was the prosecuting witness and his testimony indicated that while he got the worst of the mix-up, he had been taking a busy hand in it. The case of Baker was continued for thirty days and he was released on his own recognizance and Doeble was acquitted.

Other City Court Cases.

Charles Biddel, held for several days on a loitering charge, was fined $5 and costs.

John Freeze, a drunk, and Charles Hays, a colored vag, were turned loose.

Prosecutor Callahan dismissed the loitering charge against Clarence Weaver a young man arrested Saturday. He is detained and other measures will be taken in his case.

HELD UP, BEATEN AND ROBBED.

AIR COMPRESSION TANK GIVEN TEST

Honolulu, April 14.—The air compression tank, to be used in the attempt to raise the submerged submarine F-4 today was tested yesterday by Divers Stephen J. Drellisliak and Frank Criley. It was subjected to a pressure of 105 pounds per square inch, which is equivalent to submersion of 235 feet below the surface, and the results were reported satisfactory. It was announced the apparatus would be taken today to the scene of operations. The pontoons that are to be used to raise the F-4 in case other means prove unavailing have been completed and are ready for use.

The Japanese cruiser Idzumo on leaving Honolulu yesterday steamed in a semi-circle about the point where the submarine is believed to lie; the crew were drawn up in salute and the warship's flag was dipped in honor of the twenty-one men who went to their death on the F-4.

Huntington Man, 82, Will Hereafter Pay His Taxes by Mail.

Huntington, Ind., April 14.—William Foust, 82, living near Warren in the southern part of this county, walked twenty miles to Huntington yesterday and paid 93 cents taxes. He then walked home. It was his annual "hike" to the treasurer's office, but he said it would be his last, as he would pay by mail next year.

McNamara says he is employed in South Bend by the Standard Oil company and came here to do some work at the local plant of the company. Tuesday night he fell in with two men in a saloon, scraped acquaintance, drank with them and at their request walked on the tracks with them. When they reached a lonely place he was attacked. McNamara's face was badly disfigured, indicating he had been bludgeoned.

FAILED TO FIND JEWELS.

A burglar who ransacked the home of Chester Schiefer, 917 Edgewater avenue, Tuesday night, was frightened away about 10:30 before he had discovered Mrs. Schiefer's jewel box containing jewelry, valued at several hundred dollars, lying on her dressing case. The return home of Mrs. Schiefer and her mother, Mrs. Mason Long, frightened the burglar away and he escaped by opening a front window and going down by means of the porch. A back door had been left open to afford him easy escape, but he could not get out that way without being observed. The house was entered through a cellar window. The drawers of bureau and dressing tables were ransacked and turned topsy-turvy by the thief in his search for valuables.

DREW PLANS FOR MONITOR.

Prof. Charles William MacCord, Noted Draughtsman, is Dead.

New York, April 14.—Charles William MacCord, professor emeritus of the Stevens institute of technology, and a noted draughtsman, died yesterday at his home in Hoboken, N. J., in his eightieth year.

Professor MacCord in 1859 became draughtsman for Captain John E. Ericson, and drew the plan for the Monitor, the conqueror of the confederate ironclad Merrimack which former vessel Ericson designed. He was author of numerous works on mechanics and mathematics.

STRIKERS BUILDING FENCE.

Bridgeport, Ohio, April 14.—J. C. Adams, one of the officials of the United Mine Workers, in charge of the east Ohio strike, estimated today that fully twenty-five miles of fence have been built by strikers in the last two weeks around the community gardens the union is establishing to provide vegetables for the men and their families. The department of agriculture, it was learned, could not supply them with fruit seeds and appeals were made to wholesalers in Pittsburgh, Cleveland and Chicago, with the result that about 3,000 acres will be planted at once.

SOCIETY

A beautiful bridge party was given at the Anthony hotel this afternoon by Mrs. Louis Stiefel with a number of visiting guests present as well as the nearest friends of the hostess in the city. Mrs. Ben Levy, Mrs. James E. Meriwether and Mrs. Louis Holbrook were ladies who lent assistance in receiving and welcoming the guests after they met. Mrs. Stiefel and Miss Carrie Pickett, Miss Ruth Levy, Miss Helen Pickett, Miss Ruth Gumpfer, Miss Jane Pickett and Miss Charlotte Stiefel, of Angola, passed the tally cards and marked the games and also contributed to the pleasure of the guests by their charming appearance and manner. The visiting ladies were Mrs. Morris Eckhart, Mrs. Jonas Schloss and Mrs. Lyman Bourne, of Auburn; Mrs. Leo Lay, of Chubbuck; Mrs. A. Straus, of Kendallville; Mrs. Sam Selig, of Ligonier; and Mrs. Stiefel, of Angola. Pink and white sweetpeas were used for floral decoration and made the supper tables especially attractive, while sweetpeas, snapdragons and other spring flowers and ferns were grouped on the piano and about the railing of the reception hall attractively. During the supper hour a program of fancy dancing was given by Miss Muriel Larimore and a number of her pupils, Misses Charlotte and Margaret Niblick, two talented children from Decatur, and Miss Helen Pape, of this city. Miss Larimore and the children danced a ballet to Schubert's "moments musicaux," the Niblick girls danced a duet to the Hoffman barcarolle and Miss Pape danced a beautiful solo. Miss Helen Spindler presided at the piano for the music.

REMONSTRANCE FILED AGAINST NEW SCHOOL

Hearing on the Washington Township Building on Monday Afternoon.

A remonstrance containing 394 names of taxpayers has been filed with D. O. McComb, county superintendent, against the proposed new centralized school in Washington township. The superintendent has set Monday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock as the time for hearing the remonstrators. The session will be held in his office in the court house.

The remonstrators have secured the services of Attorneys Belot, Meyers and Drebbeliss, while Trustee Leonard Stolte will be represented by Attorney Frank Emrick.

Trustee Stolte proposes to erect a building costing approximately $25,000 and with its completion to abolish a number of the smaller schools in the township. Soon after his plan was proposed there was bitter opposition. A suit is now pending in the courts in an effort to prevent the levying of a tax necessary for the construction of the building.

AT THE MAJESTIC.

St. Louis Post-Dispatch on "Trojan Women":

"Nobly played—a jolly achievement. The sustained lamentation of the desolate wives and mothers becomes an unforgettable cry of sorrow and hopeless homelessness. The sombre significance of their speech fills the soul with an unutterable compassion. The purest heights of tragic sublimity are reached in such complete poetic beauty magnificently realized (such) majestic sequence of splendid drama. The achievement was made so vitally human that the appeal of its ancient figures became as irresistible as though they were men and women of one's own time. And the audience was held spellbound by these great simplicities—spellbound for nearly two hours. The complete performance left a deep impression of tragic beauty upon the minds of the audience."

AT THE EMPRESS.

Audiences at the Empress this week are having one grand gal-lor-i-ous time in picking out the lady of their choice with the "Gay Widows" burlesques. There is a big chorus of good lookers, and Mr. Manthelaudence and his friend next to him are arguing to the best of their abilities trying to induce each other that one is prettier than the other. It seems that the producers of this show paid special attention to picking out only the prettiest and the sweetest and the best singers and dancers that could be found, for the work of the chorus at this attraction is a revelation.

AT THE JEFFERSON.

"THE SPANISH JADE."

Paramount Company Presents Magnificent Adaptation of Vance's Novel.

The first contribution of Louis Joseph Vance's to the Paramount list of photographs is a remarkable interesting adaptation of a novel written by Maurice Hewitt. The picture possesses fine photography and settings. To procure the realistic Spanish locales, the producers have gone to the extent of erecting whole villages, which boast of a considerable substantiality. These scenes, peopled by supernumeraries clothed in picturesque Spanish garb, lend a distinct touch of realism to the whole of the picture.

Beginning Monday, the Jefferson will show the initial release of the new Fort Wayne Animated Monthly, a pictorial newspaper which visualizes instead of printing the news of local interest. The Henderson Film company are issuing the picture.

AT THE COLONIAL.

"THE HOUR OF TEMPTATION."

Wonderful Emotional Actress, Betty Nansen, at the Colonial.

This latest release of the Great Northern Film corporation, "The Hour of Temptation," is the fourth in which they have starred the great Danish tragedienne, Betty Nansen, and it is without a shadow of doubt, the most finished photoplay in which the distinguished diva has yet appeared. Miss Nansen's position as an artist of note in the field of drama is indeed an enviable one, she being considered the foremost emotional actress in the world with the possible exception of Duse and Bernhardt.

Tomorrow brings to the Colonial a marvelous screen adaptation of Friedrich Schiller's masterpiece, "The Robbers," a subject of surpassing interest to all lovers of the better class of picture plays.

Newsies Enjoy the First Treat of Entire Week of Big Funfest

Three Hundred Sentinel Newsies and Carriers, Headed by the Newsboy King, March to Jefferson Theater.

Yesterday was a big day for about 300 boys who sell and carry the Daily Sentinel, being entertained at the Jefferson theater, where a good program was witnessed. This was only the starting of the biggest week of fun the boys have ever been given, and they are to have the time of their lives as the guests of The Sentinel this week.

The little street merchants met at The Sentinel office yesterday at 6 p. m. and were greeted by Sam Tomison, the Newsboy King, who, after giving the boys a short lecture, was enthusiastically cheered. The boys were immediately lined up and headed by a big banner and the Newsboy King, they marched in a body through the principal streets, yelling and cheering, until they reached the Jefferson theater.

The boys were well behaved and were not a bit backward in showing their appreciation, as each and every reel was liberally applauded.

While Tomison believes in showing his new made friends a good time, he also believes in handing out some good advice to the boys.

Foe of Cigarettes.

He is particularly strong in picturing the evils of cigarette smoking. Here is what he had to say to a bunch of newsies yesterday:

"There is one terrible habit that I want to warn all you boys about, and that is the cigarette habit. Do you know that for every man, woman and child in the United States today there are smoked 128 cigarettes? Now every one knows that there are men, women and boys who do not smoke cigarettes; so you can imagine what a lot of the cigarette has well been named 'the coffin nail' for everyone who smokes them takes off just so much from the length of his life. Moreover, cigarettes injure every year 1,000,000 pairs of lungs and 1,000,000 pairs of eyes and generally health-destroying things are smoked by the people who have the habit. The weakens the entire constitution. Perhaps you know that cigarette smoke is one of the worst things known for eyes. The smoke gets into them, weakens them, and after a while it becomes necessary to wear glasses. Just ask the man who wears glasses and spectacles and he will tell you that what I say is true; that is, unless he is one of those bad men, who wants little boys to have poor eyes, so he can have the business of making glasses for them. Boys, if you value your health, if you want to have an active brain, to be smart, to amount to something, and to be a pride to your father and mother, and to your town, and to your country, cast aside the cigar and the pipe, and above all, never let a drop of liquor pass your lips; be clean and be temperate.

AT THE NEW PALACE

CECIL LEAN AT NEW PALACE.

Musical Comedy Star With Cleo Mayfield Heads Bill.

"Some bride" is the unanimous verdict at the New Palace as Cleo Mayfield sweeps down the aisle, gowning in filmy white, to meet Cecil Lean, the impressive and flirtatious squire, who is to marry her to James Billings, in the daintiest touch of Cecil Lean's remarkable assembly of songs and travesties on the current bill. As a matter of fact, Miss Mayfield really is a bride, as it has been only a few weeks since she became Mrs. Cecil Lean in private life. Mr. Lean himself is as irresistibly funny as ever he was in his star roles in "Bright Eyes," "The Man With Three Wives," etc. The telephone song carried on between a man at the club and his wife affords some excellent "poker comedy" while the sea going voyage is as pleasant as it is novel. There is nothing stereotyped about Mr. Lean. He has his own way of doing things and how good that way is, is best evidenced by the fact that next week he goes to New York to start rehearsals for the leading role in a new Shubert show, "A Day in Paradise." Miss Mayfield, of course, will be cast in the same production, which means the loss of both these stars to randazzo.

SAM TOMISON, NEWSBOY KING.

and he will tell you that what I say is true; that is, unless he is one of those bad men, who wants little boys to have poor eyes, so he can have the business of making glasses for them. Boys, if you value your health, if you want to have an active brain, to be smart, to amount to something, and to be a pride to your father and mother, and to your town, and to your country, cast aside the cigar and the pipe, and above all, never let a drop of liquor pass your lips; be clean and be temperate.

Urges Education.

"Another thing, boys, don't fail to get an education, if it is a possible thing for you to do. Remember that the boy of today must have as much knowledge as did the diplomat and statesman of many years ago. Yes, I feel safe in saying that the well educated boy of today is at least 50 per cent. wiser than the old time diplomat, and the man of education. One of the most serious indictments against the cigarette habit among boys is that it bars the way to scholarship. The cigarette smoking student seldom become a scholar. He lacks the application, the persistent, tenacious effort that is the price of all scholastic attainment. His intentions are good, but after smoking a cigarette the purpose of study becomes vague and shadowy, the mind dull and dreamy, the will weak and flabby and the lesson, which before seemed important and necessary, now appears trivial and worthless. He is not a student and therefore cannot become a scholar. All he can hope to be is a dull minded, dense, brainless plodder. I wish every boy in this country would take this advice. A boy who loves his mother would never smoke cigarettes. She may not tell you she despises it, but while you are smoking she is thinking of the years of toil and care she devoted to bring you up to be a success and knows that every drop of a cigarette smoke is a setback to your career. So I say again, don't chew, don't drink, don't smoke—have a clean character, be an honor to your parents, be polite, be on time, keep clean, always smile and bank your money."

Tomison finished his talk when he announced that the boys would visit the Lyric theater, where a good show is promised them by Mr. P. L. Warner, the manager. The boys will meet at 6 p. m. this evening at The Sentinel office, where they will receive free tickets.

"Cheer but its great ter sell da Daily Sentinels. Another big show terday, an some more shows fer der whole week!"

MAYOR AND BOARD MEMBERS MAROONED

Held in Wheeling and Not Able to Get Here for Boiler Awards.

The board of works had a meeting scheduled for 2 o'clock Wednesday afternoon with a half score of agents for boiler manufacturers at which time it was expected that the contract would be awarded for furnishing a big boiler to be installed in the city light and power works. The agents were on hand and one-third of the board in the person of Frank E. Singery, but Mayor Halsey and Board Members Robert E. Kelly and Henry Hilgemann were not there and the session had to be postponed. A telegram from Chairman Kelly arrived Wednesday morning announcing that himself, the mayor, Member Hilgemann and Chief Engineer Henry Zauner, of the city power plant were marooned in Wheeling, W. Va., owing to bad train connections and could not get here before Thursday. The party left on Monday to inspect some boilers in power plants at Nelsonville and other Ohio cities. How the party happened to get across the Ohio river into West Virginia will be consistently explained by Chairman Kelly when the city officials return.

ANNEXATION ORDINANCE PASSED.

DROPS DEAD WHILE DOING HOUSE WORK

Mrs. Rosina Berger Passes Away Following Attack of Heart Trouble.

A few minutes after arising from the breakfast table, Wednesday morning, while engaged in her household duties, Mrs. Rosina Berger, 2025 Riedmiller avenue, was suddenly stricken with heart trouble and died immediately. She fell to the floor and when members of the family reached her side, life was extinct.

Mrs. Berger had been ailing for the past eight years but at no time was her condition considered serious and even while seated at the table Wednesday morning seemed to be in the best of spirits. Death came at the age of 70 years and six months. She was the wife of Valentine Berger.

Born in Wuertemberg, Germany, she came to this country and directly to Fort Wayne in 1890 where she has resided ever since. She was a devoted member of the St. John Lutheran church and an active worker in all of its affairs.

Besides the husband, she is survived by the following children: Mrs. Charles Schumann, of Indianapolis; Albert Hartstein and Edward, Henry, Oscar, Garlan and Grover Banach, of this city. Four grandchildren, two great grandchildren and two sisters and a brother, Mrs. Caroline Fruelchenicht, of Adams township, and Mrs. Barbara Messerschmidt and Henry Weidener, of Germany, also survive her.

PLAN TO MOTORIZED DEPARTMENT.

Could Be Brought About by Cutting Down Track Elevation Levy.

During the discussion that followed an address to the city council by Charles R. Fitch on the subject of better fire protection, President William A. Bayer, of that body, suggested that motorization of the entire fire department could be brought about in a few years by cutting down the track elevation tax levy to 5 cents and devoting the 5 cents cut off to fire department equipment. President Bayer said that with $122,000 in the track elevation fund there was plenty of money on hand for that purpose for the present. Other councilmen approved the plan. Such an expedient would produce about $20,000 annually from taxes and the saving in the expenses of the department would go far to help bear the expense of motorization, which it is estimated would cost about $85,000. Mr. Fitch, in behalf of the fire department and the creation of a high water pressure system in the business district, which would cost $100,000. He proposed that the city issue bonds to procure means for both. Saving in the cost of maintaining the fire department and in insurance rates he said would soon reimburse the people for the expenditures.

EAST SIDE PARK DUE FIRST.

Councilmen Believe Addition to Swinney Park Should Wait.

That the next park project developed in Fort Wayne should be for the great east end of the city is the view of a large part of the councilman body and expressions of that tenor were brought out at the council meeting Tuesday night during an impromptu discussion of the subject with President D. N. Foster and Secretary C. J. Stelss, of the park board. Councilman-at-Large Jacob Hartman, who resides in the east end, called attention to the rapid growth of the city eastward and gave the opinion that before the lapse of many years the city and New Haven would merge. An east end park would be central for all of that part. The park, when created, should be called "Central park," said Mr. Hartman. He believed that the people of that part of the city were willing to be assessed for half the cost of acquiring the White property, east of Glasgow avenue. If the city at large would bear the other half of the cost. For this reason Mr. Hartman and other councilmen believed that the project to purchase the Cressler, Randall and Tennon tracts across the St. Mary's river west of Swinney park, while an excellent thing to do should be carried out by assessing a park district in the west end and not by taking money from the general fund.

SARASIN.

Ozine Sarasin, a pioneer resident of Washington township, died late Tuesday afternoon at the home of his daughter, Mrs. L. C. Kleinhart, 3114 South Calhoun street, at the age of 78 years. Death followed an illness of one week and was due to Bright's disease.

Mr. Sarasin was born in France, December 6, 1847, but came to America and directly to this country with his parents when he was but a young boy. The family located in Washington township where Mr. Sarasin spent practically all of his life. His wife preceded him in death fifteen years ago and since that time he has made his home with his daughter at whose home he died.

The deceased is survived by four children—Mrs. Alexander Pope, of Washington township; Mrs. P. J. Sweeney, Mrs. L. C. Kleinhart and Louis Sarasin of this city. ARREST FOLLOWS AN AUTO SMASH UP

James Porter Charged With Violating Speed Regulations.

On a warrant sworn to by Chief of Police Charles Lenz, Wednesday afternoon, James Porter, of the Shryock Auto Sales company, was arrested for violating the speed regulations. It is charged he was greatly exceeding the lawful speed Tuesday night, when his racing car was wrecked on a Washington street, just off of Hanna, spilling himself, another man and two women and badly damaging a large maple shade tree into which the automobile plunged.

Porter and the other man were cut about the face and one of the women was so badly hurt that she was taken to the Lutheran hospital. Her kneecap was broken and the ligaments of the leg were badly wrenched. The other woman was thrown upon her face and seriously cut and bruised. She was taken hurriedly away by her male companion.

Porter was missing the Four-Mile house Tuesday night when he was hailed by a man and two women who asked him to bring them to the city. He at first refused because his roadster is built for but two. Finally he consented and is said to have driven at high speed over the Lincoln highway into the city. At Washington and Hanna streets Porter, in trying to avoid collision with a hack lost control of his car and it dashed into the tree at the residence of Henry Schone.

SISTERS SUE SERVICE CO.

Jeffersonville, Ind., April 14.—Following a suit by Miss Maggie O'Connell for $25,000 damages for alleged false arrest, Miss Frances R. O'Connell, her sister, has filed suit for $10,000 for assault and battery.

The defendant in each case is the United Gas and Electric company and both suits arise out of the attempt of the sisters to prevent the company from replacing a defective pole. The sisters said employees of the company were encroaching on their property and they are said to have threatened them with a revolver. A peace warrant was served on Miss Maggie O'Connell. Following her release from jail, she filed suit. Another attempt was made to fix the pole and two constables went to protect the workmen. The Misses O'Connell assert the constables invaded their home and used force in taking a revolver from Miss Frances, but the constables say they took the revolver from a drawer and later returned it.

Ailments of Men Happily Overcome

SUCCESSFULLY TRIED BY MANY

Undoubtedly the following suggestion will work wonders for that great class of men who, through dissipation of their natural strength, find themselves in their "second childhood" long before the three score and ten allotted to life's pleasures and enjoyments are reached.

It is presumed to be infallible, and highly efficient in quickly restoring to nervous exhaustion, weak vitality, melancholia and the functions.

By taking it at home no man need be the wiser as to another's shortcomings, and expensive fees are avoided.

Lack of poise and equilibrium in men is a constant source of embarrassment even when the public least suspect it. For the benefit of those who want a restoration to full, bounding health, and all the happiness accompanying it, let it be stated that the prescription calls only for three-grain Cadomene tablets, in sealed tubes with full directions for self-administration. The tablets contain no opiates or habit-forming drugs, so a physician's prescription is not necessary. Well stocked pharmacies supply these tablets which possess the most wonderful tonic—invigorating powers imaginable. The effect of their use is soon apparent in new strength and nerve force.

presentation of that red, white and blue card on day of ceremonial. No seats reserved.

The Aviation Corps.

Noble Art Smith, the world's greatest aviator, and twenty-three of Mizpah's high flyers, will vie for the imperial potentate to his headquarters. His first opportunity to go "up in the air"—perhaps his last—but the Shrine is duty bound to be good to those near and dear to him. Let him carry a net. Be at the Pennsylvania station at 1:30 p. m.

The Sing Sing Boys.

A feature of the ceremonial will be the appearance of Mizpah's Sing Sing boys, all dressed in prison garb. They will appear in their Latin laxative, see, et tuum; makum likit; with Albert E. Thomas, prison chaplain; Harry O. Offutt, prison warden, and the following other inmates: Eph B. Dailey, Chauncey Griffin, William B. Ralston, A. F. Schulze, R. W. E. Sperry, Kenneth Varnelle, William N. Ballou, E. C. Miller, F. J. Schulze, Fred Vordermark, Hayes Glass, J. B. Mills, L. Scholze, George W. Yarnelle, S. B. Kerlin.

This will also be the first appearance of Mizpah's Dramatic club, preceding the first section: presenting a Dervish drama in two acts—bad and worse—dedicated to the imperial potentate.

Other Features.

Another feature of the ceremonial will be the first public appearance of the Mizpah Automobile club, under the direction of W. H. Peltier, R. L. Magee, H. M. Bowser, W. G. Rastetter, C. G. Schiefer, W. H. Meyers, H. F. Fishback, A. D. Fox, D. B. Ninde.

The Mizpah Nomad band, J. L. Verwiers, director, and the Arab patrol, Eduardo H. Kilbourne, captain, will also take an important part in the ceremonial.

In Memoriam.

Two members of Mizpah Temple have died since the last ceremonial. They are Charles E. Bond, who passed away December 15, 1914, and Allen P. Boyles, who died January 21, 1915.

AN OLD RECIPE TO DARKEN HAIR

Sage Tea and Sulphur Turns Gray, Faded Hair Dark and Glossy.

Almost everyone knows that Sage Tea and Sulphur, properly compounded, brings back the natural color and lustre to the hair when faded, streaked or gray; also ends dandruff, itching scalp and stops falling hair. Years ago the only way to get this mixture was to make it at home, which is messy and troublesome.

Nowadays we simply ask at any drug store for "Witch's Sage and Sulphur Compound." You will get a large bottle for about 50 cents. Everybody uses this old, famous recipe, because no one can possibly tell that you darkened your hair, as it does it so naturally and evenly. You dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair; taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, and after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully dark, thick and glossy and you look years younger.—Adv.

STRUCK BY WATER PLUG.

John Gillardo, a Pennsylvania brakeman, sustained a bad gash over the eye at 5:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon, when he was struck by a water plug at Plymouth, as he was leaning out of the gangway of the engine, looking towards the rear of the train. The force of the blow knocked Mr. Gillardo off the engine and dazed him for awhile. He was attended by Dr. Aspinall and later placed on train No. 48, brought to Fort Wayne and taken to his home, 2415 Winter street. He will soon be at work again. The injured man was a member of Conductor Wells' crew.

VISITED HIS SHOPMATES.

Francis Burgess, who has been unable to work for some months on account of an injury, was a caller at the Wabash machine shops this morning to see his associates. Mr. Burgess is one of the most active old men in the city. He was eighty-four years old on his last birthday, but a person unacquainted with the facts and taking a guess on his age would not put the figure beyond sixty-five.

SUPPER AND DANCE.

Hercules lodge, No. 38, Ladies' society to the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Engineers, will be hostess at a supper and dance at their hall Thursday evening. Supper will be served from 5:30 to 7 o'clock, followed by the dance feature. The auxiliary ladies and their families and the members of the B. L. E. and F. are invited to attend.

SAYS BUSINESS IS IMPROVING.

"Business on the Hooking Valley road is not very heavy," said Kenneth Koehner, an inspector for that line, who was here inspecting a number of car wheels at the Bass foundry. "The officials of the line say there is an increase in traffic over the road, however, and they expect it to grow in volume," continued Mr. Koehner. The Hooking Valley is a coal road and ordinarily is busy in the spring months carrying coal to the lakes.

THE DAY ON WALL STREET.

New York, April 14.—Bibleheim Steel was again the dominating feature of today's stock market, opening with a sale of 1,000 shares at 128 to 129, against yesterday's final price of 125. The stock steadily advanced to 140, then making a five-point jump to 145, an advance of twenty points in less than ten minutes. From this level it descended even more rapidly to 130, losing three-quarters of its pyrotechnic rise. The balance of the list was strong but orderly. Union Pacific and Southern Pacific rising from one to almost three points, with further substantial gains in automobile shares. Trading was active during the first half hour.

It was estimated that 700,000 shares changed hands during the morning. Bibleheim Steel became increasingly inactive after the first hour, recovering six points from its decline to 130, only to fall back again. Business broadened with the progress of the session until it comprehended even the most inactive issues. Union Pacific, Reading, U. S. Steel and Coppers failing back a point. Bonds were irregular.

Mr. Bookwalter said, he was entertained in Mr. Nelson's home.

"Col. Nelson had me 'buffalood' as a kid," said Mr. Bookwalter last night. "I started in working for him and Mr. Nelson in Fort Wayne as a printer's 'devil' when I was 16 years old. He was 22 years older than I was, and you know that difference in a man's age, over the age of a 16-year-old boy causes a youngster to look up to the older man."

"To tell the truth I was afraid of the colonel. I must have been afraid of him because he was my boss, and because he didn't have much to say around the shop. He was a kind and genial man, and was always considered a good friend of all the boys. He was a good, whole-some character and a staunch friend."

"The last time I met him was in the Waldorf in New York. We had a very pleasant reunion there. When I met him I was serving my last term as mayor, and I told him how as a boy he used to have me 'buffalood.' He laughed and seemed to enjoy the joke on me very much. I feel that his death has been a personal loss."

When Mr. Nelson went to Kansas City and purchased the Star, Mr. Bookwalter said he "struck" him for a job and became a cub reporter.

More than 2,000,000 young trees and 10,000 pounds of seed were planted on the national forests in 1914.
